NEW ENGLAND CITY DEVASTATED BY FIRE

WILL RATES GUINAN AS STOCKS ADVISOR; SO, 'HELLO, SUCKER!'

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 5.—Poor Mr. Hoover, he was right in the midst of a speech over the radio predicting "prosperity" and telling that we had lived down the Wall Street panic, when he just as he sat down another stock market crash fell right in his lap.

Mr. Brisbane had just that day told us "that the Federal Reserve had lowered their rates which meant more buying."

The whole thing shows that there is none of them knows any more about it than Texas Guinan. If we could just persuade our prominent men to stop "predicting," if they must predict, let 'em predict on the weather, or the first crop, or Russia, something they know about. But please quit guessing at what this country is going to do.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Welcome to New Castle!

Next Sunday is Mother's Day and as such it will be appropriately observed throughout the city, state and nation. Special programs will be presented in most of the New Castle churches.

There seems to be an epidemic of dandelions during the past few days. Some lawns on Sunday were covered with thousands of these little yellow blooms that seemed to spring up overnight.

There was a caravan of new auto buses through this city Sunday morning. The machines were buses that had been made for use in Virginia and were being transported overland from the factory to the Virginia cities.

Central firemen have completed a fine job of painting the old Knox truck a nice deep red color. The Knox truck is having been on active duty for close onto twenty years.

Frost was observed in the local district Sunday morning, when the temperature got down to 35 degrees. Early gardeners who had set out tomato plants and other tender vegetables found that considerable damage had been done to plants left uncovered.

Country highways are already quite dusty. The roads and fields in many places are unusually dry.

Pa New observed a narrow squeak for several motorists at the corner of Mill and Falls street Saturday afternoon. Both were going too fast for NASHUA, N. H., May 5.—Out of the smoking ruins of a $5,000,000 conflagration, which devastated homes, churches, schools, industrial plants, garages and smaller buildings over an area of two square miles in the southeastern part of the city, rose the sturdy spirit of the New Hampshire pioneer today.

Picked squads of 197 militiamen patrolled the burned area and Nashua's seven hundred homeless men, women and children had been provided with temporary shelter and food as Mayor William F. Sullivan announced plans for immediate rebuilding.

The local American Red Cross took charge of the temporary relief work, the housing of the homeless in the homes of public spirited citizens of this and nearby cities.

Mahatma Gandhi Is Jailed Today To Halt Revolt To Take Appeal In Paving Case

British Government Puts Forth Punitive Pay In Jailing Gandhi

ILLICIT MAKING OF SALT CONTINUES

Bombay Officials Act To Detain Gandhi With Approval Of Indian Government

(International News Service)
BOMBAY, May 5.—The British lion flared a punitive paw today and Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader, who has been conducting a long campaign of civil disobedience against British rule, was suddenly arrested and placed in jail.

Gandhi was arrested at one a. m. in Surat, about 80 miles south of here, and under an ordinance of 1927 dealing with opposition to British authority in India, he was taken to Gujrat on a mail train and transferred to a closed automobile and taken to Poona, where, under the ordinance he will be kept in Yoroda jail without bail.

The Bombay government issued a statement concerning the arrest of Gandhi and reviewed his activities of the past few weeks after the Indian leader's departure from Ahmedabad to start his salt campaign, declaring that authorities had been tolerant to the point of being called weak.

The statement made by the Bombay government said that it was felt "it was no longer possible for Gandhi to remain at large without grave danger to the tranquility of India."

Bombay authorities said they had taken action with full approval of the Indian government.

Peace Disturbed
Gandhi will remain a prisoner at the government's pleasure.

The government's statement added that Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign had resulted in a widespread

Reception And Bridge For Wives Of Lions Convention Features

If you should roam in the foyer of the Cathedral today, or if you should stroll through the lobby of The Castleton, you would quickly see that the Lion's Convention is not only an event of pleasure for the Lions, but every minute of it is being enjoyed by the ladies as well.

At Sunday afternoon and evening of which Mrs. W. C. Mechem is chairman, was kept busy welcoming the wives of the members and introducing them to each other. In no time, the congregation of women from cities in every section of Pennsylvania, were chatting pleasantly with each other.

Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott is general chairman of all the women's committees.

The reception committee, which consists of Mrs. C. J. Strieb, Mrs. T. M. Shaffer, Mrs. J. L. Reed, Mrs. W. H. Hodakinson, Mrs. Q. W. Cubison, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Hughes Bartlett, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. A. J. Rees, Mrs. John Allison, Mrs. Joe Green, Mrs. Earl Ramsey, Mrs. W. S. Pander and Mrs. Mont Hyde spent most of their time this morning at The Castleton. At noon they went to the Cathedral where the Lions and their wives gathered in the main dining room for the welcoming luncheon.

Although there were no events for the women scheduled for this morning, there were plenty of ways for them to spend their time. Some accompanied their husbands to the Cathedral to register. The women's registration committee was on the job in the foyer, showing the women where to register, and telling the wives of the plans for the day. This committee consists of Mrs. Earl Ramsey, chairman; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. M. V. Hogue, Mrs. C. G. Snyder, Mrs. W. L. Pander, Mrs. T. L. Nixon, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Earl Book.

Take Sunday School Classes To Hospital To Aid Pupils' Records

Injuries sustained in accidents by two young men who are members of the Sabbath School of the Central Christian church were kept untarished, when officers of the school and the respective classes of the two boys held services in the Jameson Memorial hospital and New Castle hospitals Sunday morning.

Earl McCormick, who was injured last week when he slipped and fell, striking his back on a stone, had attended Sunday school continuously for 19 years, and the accident seemed about to mar his perfect record. Superintendent A. W. Bauman and Harold Phelps, teacher of the class, together with other members of the Sunday school came to the rescue, however, and securing automobiles, went to the hospital during the study hour yesterday morning and held services.

They also visited the New Castle hospital, where Clarence Porter, son of Rev. Jesse Porter, pastor of the church, is confined in a bed, suffering with infection in his leg following an accident. Clarence has attended Sabbath school for the past four years without missing a Sunday.

He suffered a injury to his leg while assisting to unload auto tires at the B. and O. freight house a short time ago, cutting his knee on some broken glass, when he slipped while attempting to stop several tires which had started to roll away from him. Infection followed, and he was removed to the hospital for treatment. His condition is now improving it is stated today.

Sidelights On Lions State Convention

Bethlehem and Lewisburg were the first to register on the convention docket. Probably 75 per cent of the early comers drove to New Castle.

New Castle was in gala attire to greet the delegates who came early, owing to the long distance they had to travel. Curb and store front banners and automobile banners bearing a welcome message confronted you almost everywhere you went.

Lions from the Indiana club were in town shortly after noon today and made their presence noticeable. In the convention hotel lobby was posted an Indiana headquarters banner, and a room upstairs was reserved especially as their gathering place.

Today there were more decorations, especially up and down East Washington street. In front of one store was an American flag, the next a special Lions welcome banner, and an American flag at the next. This system was put into effect early this morning and presented a colorful display.

Professor William Coleman of Lewisburg is here. Coleman, an the Bucknell university staff, is a past district governor of the Fourteenth district and is well known by almost every Lion. Prof. Coleman was head of the district for the 1927-28 term. of the year the local club first attempted to obtain the convention for this city.

Ladies of the local Lions were out in full force and aided their husbands in greeting the visitors. Heading the ladies' committee is Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott, wife of the secretary of the New Castle club. Working with her is a large staff of assistants.

The entire board of governors for the district, headed by District Governor David M. Perry, Altoona, arrived

Hundreds Homeless Result Of Flames—Four Missing In New Hampshire Fire

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 5.—Fire today took a terrific toll in far Eastern States, dispatches to International News Service reporting millions of dollars worth of property destroyed.

At Nashua, N. H., more than 200 homes and several manufacturing plants were burned in a fire that swept the southeastern section of the city. Four persons were reported missing. Property loss was estimated at from two to five million dollars.

On Staten Island, New York, three disastrous brush fires destroyed property worth $600,000. On Long Island, New York, brush fires destroyed many homes with a property loss of $250,000.

Seven counties in New Jersey were ravaged by flames. Rich pine forests in the southern part of the state and homes were burned with an estimated loss of millions of dollars.

Forest fires raged also in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Maine, and Connecticut. Cottages at summer resorts near Portland, Me., were destroyed by a brush fire. Property loss of more than a quarter of a million dollars was estimated as the toll of various forest and brush fires in Maine.

In Need Of Rain
Lack of rain in New England States gave cause for alarm and further damage from forest fires was feared. More than 200 houses were partially destroyed at Oakwood, Staten Island.

'WELCOME' LUNCHEON AT NOON IN CATHEDRAL OPENS STATE SESSIONS

Between 450 And 500 Delegates And Guests At Gathering Here

CONGRESSMAN EATON IS FIRST SPEAKER

Business Session Of Convention Will Open At 2 O'Clock This Afternoon

Between 450 and 500 members of Lions' clubs from scattered points over the Fourteenth District of Lions International, comprising the entire state of Pennsylvania, were assembled in New Castle today for their eighth annual convention, and this afternoon at 2 o'clock will launch into their actual business sessions in the west dining room of the Cathedral, headquarters for the convention.

Opening the convention informally today was the "Welcome Lions" luncheon held in the spacious main dining room of the Cathedral, and attended by over 450 delegates, their wives, members of various civic clubs of New Castle and especially invited guests.

The speaker at this session was Hon. Charles A. Eaton, New Jersey congressman and executive of the General Electric company. He was introduced by Fred L. Renz, Dr. Eaton spoke on "The World Background of American Business," an inspiring message and interesting throughout.

Many Cities Represented
Coming by way of motor car and train, the immense throng of visitors who in many cases were accompanied by their wives, began pouring into the confines of the city early on Sunday afternoon and were still checking in at the Cathedral registration desk as the time neared for the first session to get under way.

Cities in the far eastern sections of the state, represented by unusually large numbers of delegates, were the first heard from, representatives from Scranton, Bethlehem, Philadelphia, and other eastern cities being among the first to reach here.

State and international officers were included in the advance guard, who came during yesterday afternoon and night. District Governor David R. Perry, of Altoona, was the first state officer to arrive today.

Shortly before noon today registration figures revealed 104 delegates had checked in but this number however only included the Lions themselves and not their wives. Others who came from near-by cities had not visited the Cathedral registration desk at noon, and this accounted for the fact that the figure stood so low. Leaders estimated the actual attendance at between 450 and 500.

Well Handled.
General Chairman A. H. Bartlett was on hand with his corps of assistants, who gave him able assistance in the matter of greeting and registering the delegates. A staff of stenographers were also assisting local Lions in registering the delegates.

No set program occupied the attention of the delegates this morning, only the matter of registration. Band concerts were given intermittently at The Castleton and the

Law Enforcement Program Delayed

Tariff Controversy And Parker Seating Fight Holds Sway In Congress

LEADERS PROMISE TO SHOW SPEED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Hoover's law enforcement program faces further delay in congress today with the tariff controversy back in the senate and the Parker nomination still under fire.

Although administration leaders have promised to make every effort to speed action, the program was still in a state of coma one week after Mr. Hoover dispatched a special message calling for its enactment.

Decisive action may be taken on two phases of the program in the house, with the judiciary committee either accepting or abandoning the so-called "juryless trial" plan of handling minor prohibition cases and the interstate commerce committee reporting out the border patrol bill.

There's a roar that's getting longer and a crowd that's getting stronger, and a bunch of all good fellows who are visiting today. It's the annual convention of a club and may we mention it's the Lions who are roaring and are likewise making gay. All their names are nicely carried not a one of them is worried, for they have an optimistic look on all the sides of life, some are here to pass a measure, others came just for the pleasure, and a few of them are delegates and brought along the wife. Welcome Lions to the city, and it seems to be a pity that you cannot stay a week or more there's lots of sights to see, but while you are here a-larking there will be no fines for parking, all the town's at your disposal and the weather's seventy-three

British Seek To Blot Out Revolt Sweeping India

All India In State Of Nervous Tension Following Gandhi's Arrest

MRS. GANDHI IS TAKING CHARGE

LONDON, May 5.—With all India in a state of tension following the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi, British authorities took vigorous steps today to stamp out any attempt at violence.

Police raided the headquarters of the nationalist organization at Peshawar, scene of bloody combats during the last two weeks. Leading agitators were arrested and important documents seized, according to Peshawar dispatches to the evening newspapers.

At Karachi police seized 700 weapons and 600,000 cartridges which were placed in Karachi arsenal.

In Bombay, thousands of nationalists participated in a procession protesting against Gandhi's arrest. The atmosphere was tense but there was no violence. Troops guarded strategic points.

All available forces will guard the nationalist monster mass meeting of protest tonight.

Gandhi left a letter addressed to the viceroy, Lord Irwin, when he was arrested at Surat. It was learned this afternoon. Its contents were not made known.

The Mahatma offered no resistance. He asked only to be allowed to brush his teeth and bid farewell to his wife before leaving for Poona. He took his spinning wheel with him as a gesture of his passivity.

Mrs. Gandhi has assumed leadership of the volunteers who are answering her husband's call for a band of 100,000 to march on the Dharasada Salt Depo.

of Findley township, Mercer county, Orval Ensign is a neighbor.

On Way To Work

The three young men were employed by the Holmes Construction Company, at Zelenople. They had started from home about midnight in order to be at the scene of their labors early this morning.

They were proceeding south on the Perry Highway. At the point where the Pennsylvania railroad crosses the Perry Highway near the pump station, the track is obscured by a bank, so that an approaching train cannot be seen until it is almost to the roadway.

As Masson approached the track the freight train was crossing the road and the Masson car crashed into it head on. Andrew Masson was so badly injured that he only lived a few minutes.

The dead man as well as those who were injured are all well known residents of Findley township.

The car in which they were riding was completely demolished by the force of the impact. The train was stopped and first aid was rendered by the crew, after which the injured men were rushed to the Mercer hospital.

ZERNER-PHILPOTT ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Zerner of Boyles avenue entertained in a delightful manner Saturday at a one o'clock luncheon in their home when they announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Harold M. Philpott, son of Mrs. J. W. Philpott of Richfield avenue.

Mrs. Zerner was assisted in serving a delicious menu by Mrs. R. Thompson and Mrs. H. G. Preston. The table was beautifully appointed in pastel tones with pink and lavender predominating. Small corsages grouped in the center of the table guarded by four tall tapers in crystal holders were cleverly arranged, which each guest received by pulling an individual string at the conclusion of the serving.

Miniature cards concealed in the corsages bearing the names "Ruth and Harold" revealed the news of the engaged couple. Cards were later enjoyed, with lovely prizes being awarded to Mrs. Lester Alexander and Mrs. Alvin Shumaker.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Myron McCune of Pittsburgh, Miss Jane Buck of East End, Pittsburgh, and Miss Ellen Matos of Crafton.

Surprise Party.

Miss Phyllis Aicone was the honor guest at a gathering Sunday evening when a number of friends came in on her in surprise fashion to celebrate her birthday.

The hours were enjoyably spent informally in dancing and games, with a dainty lunch being served at a chosen time by Mrs. Francis DeLillo, assisted by Mrs. Carrie Nativia and Miss Elizabeth Micco.

The honor guest received many lovely gifts in memory of her birthday.

Hold Steak Fry

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Welch and daughter of Neshannock Boulevard, Miss Mary Green of Chestnut street and Miss Mabel Steinbink of Long avenue motored to Slippery Rock Sunday where they held a steak fry.

F. A. 1926 Club

Mrs. C. G. Johnston of Wilmington avenue will be hostess to members of the F. A. 1926 Club in her home Friday for a one o'clock luncheon.

D. A. R. MEMBERS HEAR FINE REPORTS

Fifty ladies of the D. A. R. gathered in the home of Mrs. E. F. G. Harper on Boyles avenue Saturday afternoon having as a special guest Mrs. Mark Graham of Grove City.

The business session was opened with the honorable Agent, Mrs. James T. Ray, presiding, and Mrs. Benjamin Beisel acting secretary. Splendid reports of the National Convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution were given by Mrs. W. W. Campbell of New Wilmington, Miss Anna Perry, who with her sister, Miss Lillian Perry, were delegates and Mrs. James T. Ray. Each report is worthy of mention, bearing excellent ideas of their impression of the convention.

Following the transaction of the business, the remaining hours were devoted to a social session, when tea was served the guests.

W. B. G. Club.

Mrs. Earl D. Gilkey was a pleasing hostess when she entertained members of the W. B. G. club and a few in honor of Mrs. Martin Dunn, a bride of recent date, at the latter's home, 715 Croton avenue, Friday.

The evening hours were enjoyably spent in an informal manner with various games and contests being indulged in, prizes being awarded to Mrs. Walter Kelly, Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. Thomas Brown and Mrs. John Bevan. At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious lunch by Mrs. Earl Gilkey, assisted by Mrs. Wilbur Jones and Mrs. McKinley Shaffer. Tones of blue and silver were tastefully carried out in the decorations of blue and silver marking places for 20.

The honor guest was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

Entertains at Dinner.

Mrs. Robert Maybray, Oakwood avenue, was a charming dinner hostess Saturday evening when she entertained members of the R. F. M. club in her home.

ROBIN HOOD TROOP

The Robin Hood troop of the First Presbyterian church held their regular weekly meeting Friday evening in the church.

The first ten minutes were spent in patrol corners where good turns were discussed and plans for the next meeting made. Mrs. W. H. Hanger was a visitor at the last meeting.

"Wrecked on a Desert Island" comprised the program of the evening. The Scouts all got into an imaginary ship and were divided into two groups. Captain May Grimes first signalled to the words "all to get up." After dressing, the patrol leaders swam out and threw a rope to all the scouts. After trying the tow line around our waists we were pulled to shore.

The next feature was to swim ashore and do things to review our tenderfoot and second class requirements. Building a fire, drawing maps, and building shelter, etc.

The meeting was closed by the Scouts singing taps.

Betty Crane.

WELCOME PENNSYLVANIA LIONS

It is with a real enthusiasm that New Castle extends a welcome to the representatives of the eighty some clubs of Lions International located in the state of Pennsylvania, gathered here for their annual convention.

Familiarity with the accomplishments, and the ideals of the New Castle Lions, especially their noteworthy work in behalf of the blind of the community, gives an insight into the wider work of the organization in the state and nation. Such an insight reveals a program that is more than worth while. It is no mere visionary schedule, but one that is practical and is being carried on for the welfare of others in a way that more than justifies its existence and perpetuation.

New Castle, it might be mentioned, has attained a noteworthy niche in the state at large as the convention city of the western end of the state, due largely to admirable facilities that are to be found here for any kind of a convention large or small.

It is the hope of every New Castle resident that you visiting Lions can take full advantage of them, that your convention will be an exceptional success and that you will have a memorable and enjoyable time while here. We want you to come again.

Welcome Lions, To New Castle!

RETARDING AVIATION

Colonel Lindbergh's latest triumphs in the air and several recent air disasters have provided all present and future pilots with a manual on how and how not to fly a plane.

The difference between Lindbergh and the pilots who figure in these horrifying week-end crack-ups is obvious, and it is more than a matter of technical skill. Most of these accidents are due to a failure to observe the precautions that the inviolable laws with Lindbergh.

The first law of safety in the air is the law of safe altitude. It requires that planes in normal flight be kept at a height of 5000 feet or more. On his recent record-breaking transcontinental flight, the ace of aviators maintained an altitude of 10,000 feet or more.

Maintaining an ample gliding range requires altitude, and a gliding range is a requisite of safe flying. Many accidents occur because pilots, due to lack of altitude in time of trouble, cannot choose a landing place. The large number of air-mail pilots who have been able to glide to a safe landing or parachute to safety in emergencies is due to rigid observance of the law of altitude.

Every state regulating aviation recognizes the dangers of low flying and legislates against it. Planes are kept at a proper height when passing over inhabited areas and large assemblies, and stunting is forbidden at low altitudes.

Because of those who persist in acting on the theory that safety laws are made to be broken the development of commercial flying must be retarded and airplane accidents multiplied.

FEDERAL SURPLUS

It would be paying Secretary Mellon a poor compliment to call him a good guesser because he so closely approximates the facts in dealing with uncertain factors. He is rather a skilled calculator of the composite effect of complex financial forces.

When, toward the close of last year, he recommended reduction of 1929 income taxes with full knowledge of the securities crash and the then declining trend of business activity many said he was courting a treasury deficit. But apparently he alone knew then what would be the effects of those developments on the taxable incomes of 1929.

With returns for the first quarter of the calendar year (third quarter of the fiscal year) at hand, it is evident that the treasury is to come through with a small surplus. This is made possible by a drop of only eight millions in corporate income tax payments and of 40 millions in individual payments in this quarter in the face of the cut in income tax rates.

Looking backward the layman can see today what Secretary Mellon saw last fall when he was looking ahead. What is seen is that much of the stock market loss consisted of paper losses and that the business losses late last year were pretty well offset by increased profits earlier in the year.

This is not the first time that the "greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton" has demonstrated his genius as an administrator of public finances.

MICROSCOPIC PROBE MAY NOT BE BEST

The healthiest man in the world can discover, by reading a patent-medicine brochure, that he has well-defined symptoms of all the diseases listed, with the addition of parrot fever, which has not yet been added to the maladies coming under the guarantee of the cure-all.

Feeling fit as a fiddle, a wealthy man consulted a famous physician with the view of having a thorough physical examination that any hidden defects might be discovered and treated in time. The physician advised him that microscopic examination can make a healthy man feel like an invalid and worry himself into a dozen serious ailments.

We are reminded that the state of the country has never been closely scrutinized without discovering it to be in awful shape and getting worse fast. The republican form of government has fallen short of perfection, but too close examination of the defects can cause more havoc than improvement. It is folly to kill the subject merely for the sake of finding something wrong.

America has not achieved the perfect state, and neither has it built the perfect business structure. These are things to strive after, but going under the microscope for the sole purpose of finding defects to weep over is another matter.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN TAXES

Just how much better off Americans are than their British cousins may be gleaned from a glance at the proposed income tax rates recently made public by the Chancellor of the Exchequer. A single illustration should prove arresting. A million, for instance, who earns $5000 a year would, under the new schedule, pay a tax of $327, while an American getting the same sum is required to contribute only $5.62. Little wonder that, as Owen D. Young says, "America is too rich to be loved, but is well enough off to be envied." Unfortunately, however, we don't seem to appreciate our own blessings.

A Bad School Quarrel.
Cement Could Be Cheaper.

PRESIDENT HOOVER tells the United States Chamber of Commerce: "While the crash only took place six months ago, I am convinced we have passed the worst and with continued unity of effort, we shall rapidly recover."

THAT WILL encourage many. And the banks, reducing interest charges here and abroad will help. When money is cheap capital looks to new enterprises, which means hiring labor.

LOWERING the federal discount rate to 3 per cent in the New York district surprised all that lack advance information.

In accordance with our custom we followed the British, lowering our rate here when their was lowered.

This gratified England, which feared that a rate lower than ours would cause British gold shipments to this country.

NEW YORK has a public school-book quarrel, based on religious differences, which should have nothing to do with public schools.

The Rev. Lefford M. A. Haughwout, Episcopal minister, complains that a "modern history" by Prof. Hayes and Parker, of Columbia College, shows bias in favor of the Catholic religion. An Episcopal church paper calls attention to the fact that both authors of the history are Catholics. Prof. Hayes says he was long ago converted to Catholicism, but the charges that "modern history" was intended to subvert government and serve the Roman Catholic church are preposterous.

THE REALLY preposterous fact is that religious questions, which should have nothing at all to do with public school management, are dragged into public school control.

In this case the book was withdrawn from public school use to avoid any possible misunderstanding, although the highest authorities in New York's public schools system are Catholics.

THE HOUSE agrees to the Senate's cement tariff, six cents per 100 pounds. The industry needs protection against cheap cement coming from Europe, sometimes as ballast.

But cement ought not to need protection. With unlimited raw material, practically free, scattered all over the country, cheap oil and coal for power and modern machinery, this country's cement industry should be as indifferent to foreign competition as is our automobile industry.

THE LATE W. J. BRYAN would be amazed to hear Congress discussing tariff protection for silver. He thought silver, at sixteen to one, could stand forever, a gold's younger brother.

He did not foresee Chinese wars releasing Chinese silver hoards, or India stopping silver purchases that have stabilized silver mining for generations.

If it were not for moving pictures, with "silver screens" using tens of millions worth of silver yearly, more mines would close.

Certainly American screens should use American silver and the tariff should see to it.

Robert Lubbock is arrested in New York exhibiting puppies, with ears clipped. New York's new law protects dog's ears from mutilation. If dogs could vote they would repeal the law. Clipping the ears protects them, when they fight, and only quarrelsome dogs are clipped.

A sad sight is a bound with drooping ears, lacerated in some quarrel.

IF THERE were a society for prevention of cruelty to human beings it could be useful. It might forbid high heels that throw the body out of balance, cripple women in walking and prevent headful exercise.

It would examine and condemn many things sold as human food, beginning with imitation chocolate, sold to poor children, made of clay found in Turkey, and flavored synthetically.

RUSSIA combines common sense with social theories that do not win our "best minds" approval. On May Day, which is Europe's Labor Day, 1,000,000 workers passed through the red square in Moscow in a parade seven hours long.

AND RUSSIAN trade unions, in honor of the day, presented to the government forty-six fighting airplanes and nine armored cars, for war.

Spirited Warfare Develops Over Federal Canal Scheme

Proponents Of St. Lawrence Waterway Have Warm Debate With Advocates Of Erie Canal As Part Of U. S. Government System

While the House of Representatives has voted for the Rivers and Harbors Bill which provides for acceptance of jurisdiction over the Erie-Owego canal in New York state, the battle over canals continues in printed comments. Chief opponents of the New York canal are those who fear that it will interfere with the completion of the St. Lawrence waterway. There are some differences of opinion, however, among those not directly affected, on account of expenditures required.

"Whatever may be said against the St. Lawrence project," in the judgment of the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE, "this plan for an All-American ship canal seems to be economically unsound. Whether the proposed transfer of the New York canal system is really an attempt to clear the way for the All-American scheme or is merely a desire to ease the burden of the New York taxpayers, there appears to be no justification for the government's taking over a canal which has cost more than it is worth."

"The Lake States know," according to the DULUTH HERALD, "that the Erie canal route is inadequate will be terrifically expensive and will serve no good purpose. They know, too, that the term 'All-American' is hypocritical, because even if this route were used, and it wouldn't be, the cargo using it would cross the international boundary many times, and would have to go through the All-Canadian Welland canal."

"It is almost impossible to realize," according to the FLINT DAILY JOURNAL, "that the bill passed the House without further objection to such a project, but apparently the Representatives plan to leave the wrangling over the white elephant canal system to the Senate. On this phase of the matter, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE remarks: 'Whether the Elder Statesmen will reopen the fight on the New York barge canal project and undertake to make over the measure in other respects remains to be seen. The tariff hawks, however, probably will delay Senate action on this other business, but because of the latter's importance and urgent need there is every reason to expect that Congress will not adjourn its present session until the rivers and harbors bill is enacted.'

On the final questions involved, the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS offers the comment: 'Illinois and New York have evinced their willingness to transfer to the federal government waterways built by them at the cost of many million dollars. That forebodes the trend of future policy. What the federal government will do with particular channels it acquires, whether it will use them as feeders or deepen and develop them, will depend on facts and factors not now fully operative.'

It is pointed out by the ALBANY EVENING NEWS that sixty per cent of the American population is tributary to the New York waterway route, and that "the United States gets a waterway without cost, a waterway on which New York has expended millions of dollars. The BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE argues that "it is significant that the Merchant Marine Conference represented by some 300 leaders of the shipping interest has adopted a resolution in favor of the project, which will cost the United States Treasury about $30,000,000 before it is completed. The Eagle believes that "an All-American route to many Americans is preferable."

"The proponents of the St. Lawrence shipway plan," as viewed by the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, "centered fire on the proposal as inimical to the international project; yet they were able to muster only 59 votes against the transfer of the New York waterways. The number for it was 143. Of course, this vote is not to be accepted as representing the full strength of those who favor the St. Lawrence enterprise in the House. The rivers and harbors bill is essentially a log-rolling measure, it is loaded down with projects of local character. But making all allowances, the vote against the rival provision was surprisingly small."

"The purpose of giving the New York waterways to the Federal government," thinks the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, "would be to develop and operate them as carriers from the lakes to the eastern market, with export facilities such as will be provided at the outlet of the Illinois-Mississippi waterway. New England and New York are large importers and consumers of grain and a water route to these markets can be more profitable to western growers than a dubious export trade by way of the projected St. Lawrence way, which has Canadian factions against it."

Considering the possibility that the New York barge canal plan is successful, the DETROIT FREE PRESS warns: "If that leads to the development of the St. Lawrence waterway as an All-Canadian route, we shall be left with a barge canal, while Canada will be in possession of a deep waterway permitting ocean vessels to reach her inland ports, which will be available to American shipping only by her courtesy. That would be too high a price to pay," continues The Free Press, "for easing the taxpayers of New York of the load Clinton's ditch shouldered upon them more than a century ago, and from under which they have ever since been trying to escape." The BELLOIT DAILY NEWS declares that "it is questionable whether New York and Chicago will be the gainers in the long run by pooling their own selfish metropolitan considerations against the present needs of the vast midland producing area."

"Taking over that white elephant and adding it to the nation," maintains the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL, "is the worst display of unthinking political expediency ever witnessed during the session. The bill should be revised and 'unimpaired.' The TOLEDO BLADE sees "another official vote of approval and confidence for the Santa Claus theory of government."

"This raid on the Treasury," is viewed by the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL, "as against the interests of the Midwest. The ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS calls it "the richest and ripest piece of pork in the history of Treasury raiding." The KALAMAZOO GAZETTE condemns action as "an effort to defeat the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway movement."

Tepic also intrigues Harry Carr and the "Batfinkers" there, long able to enable him to tell a full story of that Mexican spot in the Los Angeles Times.

"I shudder to think what will happen to Mexico when the tourists come pouring into it but I don't believe they will be able to spoil Tepic."

It may be that the peasants will one day come to hand-me-down clothes and flippers; but I don't think so. The white cotton drawers, the native leather sandals and the wide stiff sombreros are as much a part of the country as the palm trees.

"Just so, the oxen and the burros may be a long time in giving way to automobiles because they go to places where autos cannot."

Father north in Mexico the ox teams are nervous, restless little cattle who seessaw all over the road. The oxen of Nayarit are huge, quiet cream-colored beasts which draw enormous two-wheeled carts loaded with sugar cane. The hacendados tell me that oxen are the finest rough-road animals in the world because they pull more evenly in the thick jungles and on mountain roads than either mules or horses. Also, they have the advantage of being cheaper.

The old cathedral at Tepic is one of the most colorful and interesting churches I have seen in Mexico. It is an entirely different type from the mission churches we know—high piercing Gothic towers, with beltry above bellies. The towers of the cathedral at Tepic are a superb study in early Spanish colonial architecture. Scarcely less interesting is the penitentiary built in the Middle Ages and the ruined Church of the Cross—where through a miracle, the wild grass grows in a perfect cross.

These Mexican hotels are quaint but comfortable. There is always a great square patio upon which a balcony looks down; the dining room usually opens upon this patio from the side, so you have the effect of eating out of doors. The bath-rooms are usually a couple of miles away from your room, but it seems to be quite O. K. to wander around wearing about as much as Lady Goldiva, so it doesn't matter.

"There are no room telephones—praise heaven. You lean over

County Detective Has Bootlegger's Liquor; Owner Is Not Located

If the bootlegger who owns it will call at the office of County Detective Lee, he can aid the county in proving the ownership of 32 quarts and 42 pints of Canadian liquor. The county detective has it on hand, also an automobile, but no owner for either. The liquor is not moonshine, white gold or panther sweat. It is what used to be known in the jargon of the trade as the "genuine McCoy", although the name on the bottles is Walker. The liquor has very apparently been smuggled over from Canada and at current prices could easily bring three dollars for the pints and six dollars each for the quarts. With plenty of takers.

Lee had a tip over the week end that one of the bootlegging clan was coming through with a load of liquor and found that the gentleman had arrived and had parked his car in a local garage. Mr. Lee waited for a time for the owner to appear and after a reasonable wait decided to get a search warrant and open the car. He did and found the liquor secreted in a false bottom of the car and behind the "lazyback" of the back seat. The automobile is an Ohio licensed car bearing tags 345-929. The owner is said to be a former New Castle man who decided to go into the liquor business in a big way. Just now the county detective would like to converse with him.

However, predictions are dangerous.

MR. MORROW might find a marvelous vote-getter in his courageous young daughter, Mrs. Charles Lindbergh.

If she made an airplane and automobile tour over the state, saving simply to all the voters. "My father is a good man, and I hope you will vote for him," that alone might elect him.

And it wouldn't be necessary to drag in Col. Lindbergh.

MR. MORROW is an able man. For pure, business and prosperity reasons, New Jersey might well choose him.

He would get for his state as much as anyone could get for any state, and probably more.

FARMERS that milk cows and wean calves will be interested to hear the milk news from big New York.

Price down one cent a quart. Grade A milk will sell for 18 cents. Grade B for 15 cents, the lowest prices in two years.

A surplus has caused farmers to cut prices 37 cents a hundred pounds. The farmer who does the hard work gets four cents a quart or less. Dealers who hand the milk to consumers get from eleven to fourteen cents for delivery.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

Every hotel at which I have stopped seems to wear the atmosphere and air of an inn of the Middle Ages.

"The roads around Navarre are all dim with tradition. Roads by which Guzman came from the City of Mexico; dim trails over which priest and conquistador marched when Elizabeth sat on the throne of England."

"Tepic was a military outpost on the great treasure trail of the world. The treasure-laden Manila galleons used to land at San Blas, taking refuge from the bloodthirsty English and French freebooters under the protection of the castle on the hill.

"Their cargoes of gold and silks were transferred to muleback for the long march over the mountains to Guadalupe and across to Mexico City; thence to Vera Cruz, where they were placed on other sailing vessels bound for Spain."

Croquet was first played in France where it was known as paille-maille, the spelling being changed to pall-mall in England, where it became the name of a famous London street.

During 1927, 1928 and 1929 there were but three lost time accidents at the Bessemer plant.

A safety committee, consisting of A. J. Eales, safety director and D. C. McKee, plant superintendent with his staff of foremen have been appointed to carry on the campaign at the Bessemer plant.

Similar arrangements are underway at the plant of the Crescent Portland Cement Co. in Wampum.

The country wide drive is being directed by the Portland Cement Association, of which the Lawrence Co. plants are members. A safety flag will fly over all plants as long as the mills operate without a lost time accident.

According to O. E. Wasson, superintendent of the Bessemer Cement Corp., all arrangements have been made for the campaign at their plant in Bessemer.

Council today designated 10 a. m. Friday as a time for hearing the protest against changing the south side of Arlington Avenue between Jackson and Wilson Avenues from a B. residential district to a local business district.

Persons in favor of and those against the proposed change appeared before council today as the city zoning and planning commissions recently recommended the change.

The planning commission members did not appear for the hearing.

It is said that objection to the change is such that the protestants would not oppose the construction of a new store in the district but they do not want the change in the zoning made as it would open the south side of the section to numerous stores.

Another attempt is to be made today. If this fails, the matter will be placed entirely within the hands of the court.

Cement Plants To Back Safety

Will Endeavor To Operate Without Accident During Month of June

Plans for operating during the month of June without an accident are being made by the three big cement plants in Lawrence county. It was stated today by Supt. W. H. Kleckner of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company.

A committee will be named by Mr. Kleckner to supervise plans for the campaign and safety will be stressed during the month of June. This is the fifth annual safety campaign which will be carried out by cement plants all over the country.

Cement plants are generally at the peak of their production during June, which is the reason the campaign is conducted at this time.

Expect Many Will Seek Citizenship

Certificates Being Issued By Department Of Labor Under New Act

(Special To The News) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—Hundreds of Pennsylvania residents who became citizens of this country through marriage or parents' naturalization are expected to file application for certificates of citizenship with the department of labor following the issuing of such certificates on May 1. The naturalization bureau of the labor department on the first day of May issued a certificate of citizenship to Mrs. Sibilla Campbell of this city, a woman born in Germany who became a citizen of this country through her husband. This certificate was the first paper issued through the authorization granted by an act of congress passed March 2, 1929.

The act of the labor department in issuing this first certificate paves the way for the securing of such certificates by hundreds of Pennsylvania residents who have become citizens of the United States through marriage or through parents' naturalization.

The only requirement imposed by the labor department is that such persons take the oath of allegiance to this country before receiving their informal certificates of citizenship.

What is the common definition of the term "perpetual motion," and does such a motion exist?

"Perpetual motion" is technically and almost universally understood to be a device or apparatus capable of performing an indefinite quantity of mechanical work, without absorbing an equivalent quantity of energy from external sources. The quest for such a device has begun centuries ago and has been prosecuted in every imaginable field. It attained at all, it must be by mastering all the known laws of physics and mechanics which now indicate its impossibility, and discovering some flaw in the vast mass of evidence upon which they are based. It has become increasingly evident that the problem has no solution.

Please give a brief biographical sketch of William Tyler Page, author of the "American's Creed."

William Tyler Page, clerk of the house of representatives, was born in Frederick, Md., October 19, 1883; appointed page in the clerk's office of the house December 19, 1881; since been continuously in the service of the house of representatives in many capacities. Republican nominee for congress, second Maryland district, 1902. Author of the "American's Creed" and of "Page's Congressional Handbook." Elected clerk of the house of representatives, sixty-sixth to seventy-first congress.

Does a West Point cadet receive pay? If so, how much?

A West Point cadet receives $780 per year and commutation of rations, at present fixed at 80 cents a day. The total is $1,072, which with proper economy, is sufficient to meet his actual needs at the academy.

How many telephones are there in New York City?

On March 31, 1930, there was a total of 975,694 telephone stations in the Borough of Manhattan, and as of the same date the number in New York City, comprising the Boroughs of Manhattan, Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, totaled 1,829,703.

When was the Salvation Army founded?

The Salvation Army, a religious and charitable organization, was founded by William Booth in London, England, in 1865, under the name of East London mission, later changed to the Christian mission. In 1878 the title of Salvation Army was adopted and a worldwide crusade commenced. The work in the United States was founded in 1880.

Will Travel On "Magic Carpet"

Travel Club Is Organized In Juvenile Department Of Local Public Library

Thursday, May 8, the second meeting of the newly organized travel club of the children's department of the New Castle free public library will be held. Some 25 children are expected to be present. Miss Alice Joyce, children's librarian, is in charge.

Last Thursday, the club was organized and it was decided to call the travel club "The Magic Carpet." The first trip taken by the little members will be to France—in imagination, of course.

A special shelf of travel books have been set aside for the use of the club members.

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SPINNER IN THE POOL

Mayfly should have felt flattered when Mrs. Great Water Beetle told her she would remember the little lady of the larva. But instead, Mrs. Water Beetle's word amused her.

"Never forget me?" repeated she. "Oh, yes you will, Mrs. Beetle. 'With the rising sun tomorrow you will have ceased to remember there was such an insect as myself.'"

"What makes you think so?" demanded the Great Water Beetle.

Because you will see someone who looks like me flying over the brook, soaring over the bank. Then you'll see another and another—the air will be full of little Mayflies. I'll tell you a piece of news—there are a lot of my sisters and brothers coming out of their overcoats tomorrow. Each and everyone of them will not only look like me; they will act like me. That's why I say you'll never miss me!"

Away soared Mayfly. Mrs. Great Water Beetle flopped over on her back and turned the side of her wrinkled face to the water. "I do see a weed," said she, speaking as though someone had said she hadn't. "It's just what I've been looking for. Husband, dear, when I return, be ready to go for a swim with me!" Mrs. Beetle caught hold of and clung to a bit of weed floating down stream. Then and there, without more ado, the lady set in motion the tiny spinning wheel which like Mr. Spider, himself, she carried on the back of her body. Before long Mrs. Beetle had fashioned a skein of silk into a dainty cocoon.

3000 Reindeer Sent To Hungry Eskimos

Animals Are Being Herded Across 700-Mile Arctic Expanse

WINNIPEG, Man., May 5.—Three thousand reindeer are on their way to relieve the Eskimos of northernmost Canada, whose food supplies are running low.

The reindeer are from the Alaskan coast and are being herded across the frozen North on a 700-mile trip to the east side of the Mackenzie river delta.

It is a long and difficult journey, but by the time the reindeer reach their destination next spring, the "cowboys" who are herding them expect that most of them will be practically tame.

R. T. Porsild of the northwest territories branch of the Dominion Government, is leaving here by airplane for northern Canada to prepare for the coming of the animals. He will be accompanied by an assistant.

The white caribou have been chased out of the coastal ranges in the Arctic, Porsild said, leaving the natives to the necessity of depending upon for trapping for their meat. When the for supply is gone the natives will have nothing more to live on, as they cannot rely on living on the sea any longer.

On the arrival of the reindeer, the Eskimos will act as apprentice herders. They will be paid in stock which will give them an interest in building up their own herds. As the reindeer double their number every three years it will not be long before there are many of these animals in the Arctic and the food supply problem will be solved.

Girl Flier Begins Flight To Australia

International News Service. LONDON, May 5.—Miss Amy Johnson, 22 year old English aviator, left Croydon aerodrome at 7:45 a. m. today on an attempted solo flight to Australia.

The girl flier was essaying the 10,000-odd mile hop in a Gipsy Moth—a light, sports biplane.

Happy thought: Other men have as many weak points as you have and keep them concealed as you do.

She thought:

"As much as I like you, I wouldn't think of staying overnight with you."

Yet, to be polite,

She said:

"Your room is lovely. . . I guess I can't stay. I don't mind the trip home."

No intimate friends —until she ended "B. O."

(Body Odor)

SHE LONGED for friends—real friends. Girls who would drop in to see her often, go shopping with her or to the movies, stay overnight. But in spite of her cordiality, people didn't respond. They were polite, pleasant—but kept her at arm's length.

At last she found out why. "B.O."—body odor. . . Now her lonely days are over—she has friends galore. She knows the easy way to avoid offending.

No one is safe!

Body odor is a fault people seldom mention—and never overlook. Yet unless we adopt some simple safeguard, any one of us may be guilty—and not know it!

Our pores constantly give off odor-causing waste—as much as a quart daily, doctors say. We soon become accustomed to this ever-present odor and don't notice it in ourselves. But others do.

That's why millions of particular men and women have adopted Lifebuoy as their toilet soap. For with Lifebuoy you can feel safe. Its bland, creamy, deep-cleansing, antiseptic lather purifies pores—banishes every trace of "B.O."—leaves you gloriously fresh and clean.

A real complexion soap

And what wonders Lifebuoy can do for the complexion! It goes straight to the source of most complexion troubles—clogged pores. Quickly its gentle searching lather frees them of impurities—coaxes back healthy radiant bloom to dull, sallow skins. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

Presbyterial To Meet In Leesburg Tuesday

Interesting Program Has Been Planned For A Full Day's Meeting Tuesday

The Shenango Presbyterial will hold their annual meeting in the Leesburg Presbyterian church Tuesday with the morning session opening at 10 a. m., at which time registration will take place and the noon business will be transacted. At noon the women will enjoy a picnic lunch.

At the afternoon meeting there will be several speakers of interest: Rachel Benfer of the Langdon school of Tennessee will tell of her work and the needs of her school; Marcia Kerr, the foreign mission board secretary, will have a message for the assembly and Miss Linnie Long of Beaver Falls, state officer of the W. C. T. U., will speak on the "Present Political Situation in Our State". The evening session will be turned over to the young people, who will present a pageant, and Miss Benfer will also speak at this time.

A banquet will be served in the church dining room between the afternoon and evening sessions.

Gives Last Sermon On Commandments

Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church delivered his last sermon on the Ten Commandments as they apply to modern life in the church Sunday evening, the auditorium being filled to overflowing by members of the congregation and their friends.

Rev. Joshua spoke on the commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Covet," and condemned the spirit of restlessness of the present generation, brought about by envy and covetousness.

He severely condemned the broadcasting of stock quotations by leading radio stations, which have even given over the Lords day to greed. He pleaded for spiritual ideals in the present generation and the development of contentment, poise, and dignity.

Congress Starts On Home Stretch To Adjourn June 1

Restive Congress Politically Scared Wants To Get Away From Washington

CAMPAIGNS ARE BEING WATCHED

Hoover Has Insisted That Congress Stay In Session Until Work Is Finished

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 5.—A restive congress, politically scared and burning to get away from Washington, started down the home stretch of the session today.

The common aspiration is to adjourn by June 1, four working weeks off, despite President Hoover's insistence that congress stay on the job until it winds up the tariff, ratifies the London Naval Treaty, adopts the reforms in prohibition legislation he has thrice recommended and dispose of other matters considered pressing.

Work Is Important
The work demanded is important, but in the life of the average congressman there is nothing more important than getting re-nominated and re-elected. Hence it will not be surprising if, after enacting the tariff bill, the nervous members bolt for home to mend political fences against the hurricane of votes in November. Presidential wishes to the contrary notwithstanding.

Primaries already have begun, while congress dawdles in Washington. Illinois pried the lid off with enough upsets to send apprehensive shivers down the backs of many. Indiana votes tomorrow, Alabama a week later, with Oregon, Pennsylvania and South Dakota following in close order. The month of June will see seven other states holding primaries; there will be two in July, while in August the senators and representatives of 14 states face the voters.

Keen Opposition
The controversial prohibition and tariff issues have combined to produce this year far more than the average opposition to sitting members.

Encouraged by the apparent shift in public sentiment on the wet and dry question, scores of the politically ambitious have been encouraged to oppose for renomination and re-election this year dry congressmen who in the past have had easy sailing.

The tariff runs a close second to prohibition as the bonehead of congressional minds. Denounced as "a robber bill" that will take billions from the pockets of the consumers in the form of higher prices for necessities, members who have contributed to the making of rates are distinctly apprehensive.

It was the Payne-Adair bill two decades ago that overturned an administration and a Congress, and the Hawley-Smoot bill of this session is denounced by its opponents as "more iniquitous" than even the famous measure of the Taft administration.

Eighteen Months
Save only for a few months recess last summer, Congress has been on the job almost continuously for the last 18 months. The last session of the 70th Congress began in December of 1928, finished on March 4, 1929, to be almost immediately succeeded by the special session of the new 71st Congress which President Hoover called in April a year ago. The special session ended in December by merging into the regular session and May now finds them still on the job.

"Is it any wonder we want to get away?" is the plaintive question on Capitol Hill. "Almost 18 months of it, and trouble piling up at home."

The opinion is general that once the tariff bill is out of the way the leaders are going to have their mettle tested to hold the members here. Already there are many absentees in the House. There are not so many in the Senate because only a third of the members there are up for re-election this year, whereas all of the 435 members of the House must pass inspection by the voters.

Prohibition, the tariff and the opposition that these issues have engendered back home are keeping many members on the hot seat as the flowers of May start blooming.

In the city Sunday night. Their first session together was at a breakfast this morning at The Castleton.

The two-time proposition caused temporary confusion among some of the delegates yesterday. Those on daylight time from the eastern section of the state were explaining to those from the west on slow time just what time they left home, and would compare that with the eastern time. One crowd, evidently from a distance, was praising the merit of fast time to local men.

Reading's delegation came prepared to win the convention for next year. They will attribute their success to the lowly pretzel. As an advertising stunt they brought 3,000 Reading-made pretzels along and today distributed them to the convention delegates. Souvenir pencils from a Reading hotel were also given away.

While Lion Daniel Kramer, member of the state board by the way, was leading the campaign to have the 1931 session to go to his city, another determined delegation from Wilkesburg was striving just as hard to have next year's meeting go there. They've planned some publicity schemes, too.

Outside of the convention hotel last night were two peculiar license plates—probably on cars driven by the delegates. One bore the letters "RK" with no figures whatsoever while another carried license No. MM1.

Competition for the inter-club bowling contest this afternoon was keen. All morning the teams kept together, generating pep for one other. Six different different aggregations were to compete this afternoon for state honors.

One of the notables here for the two-day convention is Dr. A. S. Haines of Mt. Lebanon. Dr. Haines was governor of the district in 1928-29. Another was W. A. G. Fox, who hails from Philadelphia—also a past governor of the Fourteenth district.

Perhaps the busiest men at The Castleton hotel last night were General Chairman A. H. Bartlett of the New Castle club and the present club mogul of the state, David R. Perry of Altoona. Perry came to New Castle long before the advance guard and had everything ready to greet the throng in no time. It appeared as if the governor knew almost everyone.

Never before have so many delegates arrived on the eve of a convention, state leaders said. They attributed this to the fact that most of those who came were from distant points and took advantage of yesterday's blizzard driving weather by driving through.

Delegates were stirring at The Castleton this morning shortly after 7 o'clock. Tomorrow—and they hope the weather is as nice—a 50-mile motor trip will provide an opportunity for them to see the country surrounding New Castle's important show places will also be visited.

Irving Camp, international past president, came to the city today. A committee of local Lions with state officials greeted him upon his arrival at a local depot.

Leo J. Buettner, secretary of the Johnstown club and secretary of the Pennsylvania Association of Planning Commissioners is also in town. Mr. Buettner enjoys coming here for one of his best friends, Matthew Gunton, lives here. A year ago he addressed the different civic clubs.

Lion Thomas I. Elliott, local secretary, heads the registration desk at the Cathedral. At 9 o'clock this morning checking of the delegates began and still is under way, many of the distant delegates arriving late.

Featuring today's program was the band concert presented by the New Castle high school and Pennsylvania railroad bands. This occurred on the terrace of the Cathedral and thoroughly delighted the delegates. The concert preceded the opening luncheon.

The first to sign on the dotted line at the cathedral registration desk was one J. Herbert McCandless, member of the Logans Lions club of Philadelphia. Down there they must designate the different clubs for Lions International has seven other live-vice branches in that city.

There are 36 Lions clubs functioning throughout the Keystone and Governor Perry hopes registration figures will show a representation from each.

Golf bags were carried by some of the delegates and in order that their energy might not go to waste several matches have been arranged. Joseph Green is in general charge and will arrange the matches if those interested will see him.

Old Sol certainly smiled on the convention. While a bit of a shower did break the streak of sunshine for a while today the weather of Sunday and early this morning could be termed ideal.

Funny how such things happen, but delegates are in attendance from Bethlehem, Nazareth and Paradise. One delegate jokingly asked another this morning if Jerusalem had sent a delegation, since practically all the rest were represented.

Norristown, so it is said, always takes the cup offered for attendance. At 11 o'clock today however no word had been heard from the delegation that earlier registration figures indicated would come.

Cathedral by the Erie and Ashtabula Division band of the Pennsylvania Railroad, under the direction of Harry Culbertson. With the New Castle high school band, the Pennsylvania band participated in a joint concert on the terrace of the Cathedral, just preceding the luncheon at noon.

State Executive Board.
A meeting of the state executive board with District Governor David R. Perry presiding, occurred in a conference room at the Castleton this morning, following a breakfast of the state officials.

Present were Dr. A. S. Haines, Mt. Lebanon, past district governor; W. A. G. Fox, Philadelphia, past district governor; Prof. William Coleman, Lewisburg, past district governor; Harry E. Detwiler, Scranton, past district governor; Howard Byrd, Harrisburg, past international director; Thomas K. Keim, Bethlehem, state treasurer; K. B. Cox, York, past district deputy; Daniel Kramer, Reading, deputy district governor; George B. Comfort, West Chester, and Dr. T. Snyder of Clairton. This staff of officials comprises the state governing board.

Business matters scheduled to come before the convention were discussed before the meeting today, and plans made for the presentation of it. A definite announcement will be made later relative to the action of the board.

Speakers Arrive.
Two of the speakers for the convention, Dr. Charles Aubrey Eaton, who spoke at the opening luncheon at noon, and Irving Camp, past international president, who will address the convention Tuesday afternoon, arrived here this morning and were greeted by club and city officials. A special party of officials, headed by President E. D. Marvin, met Mr. Camp when they arrived at local hotels.

Most of the far eastern club delegates had checked in by noon time while those representing Butler, Beaver Falls, Farrell and other surrounding clubs were expected to arrive early this afternoon, and probably for the opening luncheon. Many have made reservations for attending, club officials said.

Welcome Luncheon
Visiting Lions, their ladies, members of the various civic clubs of the city to the number of more than five hundred participated in the welcome luncheon held at noon in the main dining room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

It was an enthusiastic affair in every sense of the word and all participating from the Hon. Charles Aubrey Eaton, speaker of the occasion, to the members of the various clubs participating, and their guests took an active part in the program, which included pep singing, addresses of welcome and the wonderful address by Congressman Eaton.

The affair opened with the entire group singing the Star Spangled Banner, after which Dr. S. L. Maxwell of the Episcopal M. E. church, asked the divine blessing on the gathering.

While the dinner was being served, Lion "Red" Williams put on some wonderful pep singing with the assistance of Arch Cubison at the piano and the enthusiasm of the many Lions in attendance.

Seated at the guest table at the head of the dining room were the Hon. Charles Aubrey Eaton, speaker of the day, Lion E. D. Marvin, presiding officer of the occasion, Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Mayor William H. Gillespie and the heads of various civic organizations and clubs of the city.

During the dinner, when Red Williams and his pep singers were not busy with the song sheet, the New Castle High School Orchestra furnished some excellent music.

Chairman E. D. Marvin in his opening remarks expressed his pleasure in being able to welcome the visiting Lions and their friends. He then introduced Mayor William H. Gillespie, who in a short address extended the freedom of the city to the visitors, and invited them to come often and stay long.

Chairman Marvin then introduced various notables at the guest table, including Mrs. T. L. Elliott, chairman of the ladies activities of the convention, Irving L. Camp, past president of the Lions International.

District Governor David R. Perry, of Altoona, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, head of the Quota Club, Miss Nancy Bechtel, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, W. F. Moody, president of the Chamber of Commerce, A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Prof. F. L. Burton, president of the Rotary club, Judge R. L. Hildebrand, president of the Kiwanis club, Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, Commander of the American Legion.

Chairman Marvin in concluding his introductions presented the Hon. Fred L. Rentz, as one of the city's best known and most energetic citizens and the person, who would introduce the speaker of the occasion.

Mr. Rentz, a Rotarian and Honorary Member of the Lions, was most happy in his introduction of the Hon. Charles Aubrey Eaton, of New Jersey.

He said that after being with Congressmen Eaton all morning, that he felt that he did not need to say much for a man of his calibre, because there was one outstanding thing that had impressed him and that was the job that Congressman Eaton had accomplished as the head of the shipping board during the late war in providing ships when needed and in such quantities that the rivers and harbors were still crowded with them.

He said that he felt it was a great honor to introduce a man of this calibre and he then presented the speaker. The remarks of Mr. Rentz were received with enthusiasm by the assembled Lions and their guests.

As marks of friendship there stood behind the speakers tables, some wonderful baskets of flowers which were the gifts of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Quota Clubs of the city.

A feature of entertainment this afternoon, the local club has planned for an inter-club bowling contest. Six different teams have been entered in this, according to the chairman of the bowling committee, T. L. Nixon. This contest will occur at 4:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Oratorical Contest.
The business program of today will be marked with entertainment features, with musical numbers being presented by a group of Westminster college musicians, and an inter-club oratorical contest, in which representatives of various clubs throughout the state will compete. The subject of the orations will be "Our Club's Activity and How We Best Accomplish It" and the speakers will be allotted five minutes each. A committee of judges will make the decision and to that representative will go the oratorical honors for the state. Clubs competing this afternoon will be Warren, Washington, West Chester, Butler, Beaver Falls, Leighton and Wilkesburg.

Following the first business session, of which the above events will be features, will be held at the bowling tournament and immediately following this a dinner for club presidents and secretaries, state and international officers, at The Castleton.

The evening's session will open in the Cathedral auditorium promptly at 7:45 o'clock with an organ recital on the Greer memorial organ.

Stunt Night.
"Stunt night" then will get under way and representatives of the different clubs will perform to their hearts' content upon the mammoth stage. These clubs have been working with George Smith, member of the New Castle club, who is in charge of the evening's events. Chairman Smith said this morning that a gala of fun and frivolity is assured. The close of the stunts and performances will end the first day's sessions.

No definite action relative to the selection of the 1931 convention city or the district governor for the coming year will be taken until the election occurs on Tuesday afternoon.

Two Week Convention.
Representatives of certain clubs are busy nevertheless and are doing everything possible to give wide publicity to the cities from which they

Representatives of certain clubs are busy nevertheless and are doing everything possible to give wide publicity to the cities from which they come. Reading and Wilkesburg appear to be the only clubs which desire to host the convention next year, but the Reading delegation seems to be intent upon having their city selected. It is understood, however, that Wilkesburg's members are quietly conducting a "Select Wilkesburg" campaign. The Reading delegation this morning passed all kinds of souvenirs and their literature backing its claim as an ideal convention city. Reading's delegation declares the convention should go east next year, as last year's occurred in central part of the state, at Altoona.

The program of the delegates for tomorrow is a busy one, starting with a 50-mile automobile tour to different points of interest in the morning and continuing through until the closing banquet and ball in the evening.

Lions and others who can donate cars for tomorrow morning's tour are requested to do so, for indications point to a near 100 per cent attendance of the delegates and their wives on the journey tomorrow. Those who might provide their machine for the purpose should get in touch with Dr. J. L. Reed, chairman of the committee in charge of special events.

The entire schedule of this afternoon and evening's and tomorrow morning's activities follow:

Today's Program.
2 p. m.—Convention opens with first business session. Inter-club oratorical contest. Entertainment. Westminster college. Address. Melvin Jones, general secretary of Lions International.

4:45—Inter-club bowling contest.

6:15—Presidents' and secretaries' dinner with state and international officers in attendance at The Castleton.

7:45—Organ recital in the Cathedral auditorium.

8:00—Stunt night in the Cathedral auditorium.

Tuesday Morning.
8:45—Fifty-mile automobile tour starting at The Castleton hotel.

12:00—Convention luncheon in the Cathedral dining room. Lion B. K. Thacker presiding. Speaker Raymond D. Evans, assistant United States district attorney at Pittsburgh.

Campaign To Finance Girl Scouts In Progress

(Contributed)

With the annual financial campaign for carrying on the work of the Girl Scouts now in full swing, it might be well to stop and consider whether or not this movement is worth while. One of the questions on a questionnaire recently sent by National was if any improvement could be noted in girls who had been scouts for several years. This was discussed at the Leaders' Association and from the older leaders came many different view points. Self reliance, dependability, originality and a higher sense of honor were the main answers. If only a small part of girls became scouts developed some of these characteristics, the movement would be worthwhile.

The first year the Girl Scouts had a camp here, it was almost impossible to have an interesting camp fire in the evening because of the absolute lack of originality. Children's play nowadays is almost entirely made for them, the movies playing too large a part. This is one big achievement of scouting. The camp fire programs now are looked forward to by the whole camp because of their originality and spontaneity. It doesn't take the new girls long to have their minds opened and fall in line.

It is easy to pick out the new girls in a camp by their fear of the bugs, etc. The older girls, through study of them in their native classes, are interested in watching and handling them.

A large percentage of the merit badges worked for has to do with home making. Many people say "the girls should learn those things in their homes." True, but not many mothers have the time to teach their daughters these things now-a-days.

Also how much more fun it is to learn them with a group of girls.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Honorary President of the Girl Scouts, in talking to some scout leaders, stated the aim of girl scouting in these words: "Girl scouts are girls who have gathered together in a group quite of their own volition, that they may find a means of expressing their constantly changing stream of high spirits and good will; that they may serve their community in a manner that is practicable; that they may explore trails which lead out of the pleasant fields of childhood to the broad and teeming highways of adult life."

"Girl scouts seem to have a better time working than playing; and a better time working for others than themselves. Those I have known give a tremendous exaltation from serving others; and a frequent result of the voluntary cooperation and comradeship in Girl Scout activities is the development of thought and helpfulness in other people. This makes our girls better homemakers, citizens, better friends. Individually, it tends toward a keener mind, a finer character, and a happier self."

In the window at the P. & O building now on display, the story of what scouting does for girls is graphically shown. The trefoil really means the three parts of the Girl Scout promise, which is:

On my honor, I will try:
To do my duty to God and my country;
To help other people at all times;
To obey the Girl Scout laws.

In this instance, the trefoil points to three things scouting tries to accomplish:—to make better homes, better girls and better citizens. The idea has been cleverly carried out by dolls dressed in the uniform.

It is earnestly hoped the public will respond in helping to carry out this very worthwhile character building movement. The strictest economy has been observed in the past and will continue to be done in the future.

Money is not the only thing needed to make a success of Girl Scouting in New Castle. Good leaders are just as badly needed. The girls themselves are legion who desire to become scouts, but have to be turned away because of the lack of leaders. There should be many fine women here who would be willing to give a few hours a week to this enjoyable work. Any leader now in the work will say she gets far more out of it than she put in it; that is, if she puts herself in it. The girls are interested, full of enthusiasm and very responsive.

This work requires real training. The Director, Miss Pugh, conducts these training classes. Some leaders are sent to a training camp each year. This year they will be sent to Camp Red Wing, the Allegheny County Girl Scout camp, which is near Zelienople. Any one interested in growing girls and desirous of doing some good civic work, please call Scout Headquarters, 5620.

Vets Propose Use Of Wreaths For Memorial Day

Uniform Decoration For Graves And Business Houses Proposed Here

Proposal of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to use wreaths formed of laurel leaves and Buddy Poppies, as a uniform Memorial Day decoration, is meeting with good response from merchants and residents of New Castle.

The wreaths were sold by the post as a Memorial Day decoration for the first time last year, and met with favor on the part of local merchants and those who have soldier relatives buried in local cemeteries.

A campaign to urge merchants in the uptown district to adopt this decoration will be inaugurated this week. It has the approval of the Chamber of Commerce.

Health Program At Lawrence School

Lawrence School Students Observe Health Week By Presenting Fine Program

Primary and Intermediate grade students of Lawrence school presented the following health program, at the school, recently, as a special feature of Health Week, observed all last week.

Leroy Mann opened the program with a recitation, "Keeping Clean." William Watkins spoke on posture; and students of grade I rendered a song, "The Moon and I."

Mary Nickum's recitation was called "The Pig Brother." Nine pupils of Grade I gave a health acoustic and pupils of grade 3 gave a presentation, "Bernice's Fairies," followed by "Aunties House," by Helen Isaac.

Grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 presented an original play with music, "James and Alice's Dream." The play was written by Bertha Lee Clark and the music was written by grades 3, 4, 5, and 6.

Daisy Watkins gave the "Tooth-brush Song"; grades 5 and 6 gave an exercise, "Our Doctors"; Bertha Speizek recited "Pat Potato"; grade 2 students told of Mother's Day; grade 1-dren; grade 2 gave a song, "Sunlight and Moonlight"; and short recitations were given by students of grade 1.

The Jolly Health Clown and his helpers were portrayed by Grade 3 students at points on good health were expounded by Louise Semaki. The Health Crusader's Song, by grades 5 and 6, was also commendable. The program was concluded by a health talk by Miss Helen Wilson, school nurse.

Would you like to try this doctor's laxative free of charge?

Every family has occasional need of a laxative, but it should be a family laxative. One that can't form a habit, but can be taken as often as needed. When breath is bad or tongue coated. Or appetite fails. Only a doctor knows the right ingredients. Dr. Caldwell discovered the correct combination years ago. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin combines harmless herbs and pure senna. It starts muscular action and soon corrects constipation. Gently, but surely, it relieves a bilious or sluggish condition. It is mild. Delicious. Effective. All druggists keep this famous prescription ready, in big bottles. Or write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., for a free trial bottle postpaid.

Lawrence Auto Company Draws Many To Opening

Fine New Building Is Revelation To Those Who Visited It On Saturday

INVITE PUBLIC TO VISIT PLACE TONIGHT

Hundreds of people visited the newly remodeled home of the Lawrence Auto company at their official opening to the public Saturday, and inspected the fine new appointments of the building, which is one of the greatest in this section of the country. Beautiful floral tributes from their many friends, both in the trade and from local patrons, attested to the high esteem with which the company is held by their business associates.

Many changes which have been made following the erection of the new addition for the comfort and convenience of their patrons were shown to those who visited the building. Because of the fact that many were unable to get into the building on Saturday, it will be kept open this evening for those who care to visit the place and inspect the many conveniences installed for the convenience and service of patrons.

New Equipment Installed
Every possible mechanical device to save labor in servicing and repairing a car has been installed in the new building, with the aim of cutting down the cost to the patron.

Automatic brake testing and adjusting machines enable this work to be done in about fifteen minutes, where it formerly took four hours for a skilled mechanic. An automatic jack in the general repair room of the shop, enables a mechanic to drive a car onto a small incline, under its own power, which releases and leaves the car standing several feet above the floor. Heretofore a mechanic would have to take about twenty minutes to complete this task, which is done in a few seconds.

The same idea is carried out in all the other mechanical features of the plant.

The entire lower floor of the old building, which was formerly used for storage purposes, has been converted into a mammoth display room, where the many models which the company handles will be shown. Space for this purpose has been quadrupled.

Largest In World
A survey recently made by the Firestone interests has developed the fact that the Lawrence Auto Company is the largest one-stop service station in the world. By this is meant, that it is the largest establishment of its kind, where every different type of service to his machine need no longer take a day off visiting different establishments for these needed requirements, as it can all be done under one roof here.

That is if his battery needs charged, and he needs to have the brakes checked and the car oiled and greased, and washed it can all be done at the Lawrence Auto Garage, in addition to repairing mechanical defects.

No effort has been spared to make everything about the place as modern as present day mechanical improvements can make it, the aim of the company being to give the patron the highest type of service available.

Much valuable space was given over to the gasoline filling station, which is placed in an inset in the front of the main part of the new building. Here one can drive in for oil and gas or to put air in the tires, and be out of the weather.

Chief Army Engineer Advocates Erie Canal Belong To Government

Erie Canal Greatest Waterway In Country; Connects Two Largest Cities

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Immediate taking over and operation of the Erie canal by the federal government was advocated by Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, before the senate commerce committee at the first of the hearings on the pending river and harbors bill today.

"The Erie canal is a great national waterway with New York at one end and Chicago at the other," he said, "with great industrial centers in between, and it must be preserved."

"I am in favor of the government taking it over at once and operating it. The Erie canal, senators, is not a 'nite elephant'."

Peculiar Accident Results In Suit

Mrs. Elizabeth Adams Seriously Injured When A Cupboard Fell Upon Her

The case of Mrs. Elizabeth Adams and her husband, Robert Adams against Louise McKibben, in which Mrs. Adams is claiming $11,350 damages from defendant as the result of a peculiar accident, was taken up for trial before Judge Hildebrand today. Mr. and Mrs. Adams rented an apartment on Grant street from the defendant.

They moved in and the next morning Mrs. Adams was straightening up the house when a cupboard fell on her pinning her between it and a table. She had three ribs fractured and was otherwise seriously injured. It is claimed that her injuries are of a serious character.

The cupboard was one of the old fashioned type with one part resting on another. It is claimed that it had been attached to a wall, but that the fastenings had been removed or come loose. It is supposed that the vibration caused by the moving of the furniture may have caused the upper part of the cupboard to fall.

Delegates Back From Pittsburgh

Attend Convention of State Adult Bible Class Federation

LAW ENFORCEMENT IS LEADING THEME

The Eighth Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania State Adult Bible Class Federation was held at the Southfield street M. E. church, Pittsburgh, Saturday and Sunday, and the chief topic stressed was Law Enforcement and the United States Commissioner of Prohibition, Dr. J. M. Doran, was on the program. Delegates from New Castle were Robert M. Strickler, Jr., President, Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, John W. Owens, Adult Division Superintendent of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association and D. S. Williams. These three delegates were sent by the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church.

At the morning session Saturday, Mr. Strickler was appointed chairman of the Resolutions committee. This session was featured by the convention sermon delivered by Dr. James M. McQuiklin of the Carnegie P. P. church and his theme was, "Lord What Will Thou Have Me to Do?"

The speakers of the afternoon session were Dr. O. W. Warmingham, Boston; Mrs. Ella Black, President of the State W. C. T. U., Dan Siep, Altoona, Pa., President of the State Newspapers Publishers Association and Rev. E. P. Westphal of Philadelphia, Adult Director of the Presbyterian Denomination. At 5:30 there was a Fellowship Dinner at the Chamber of Commerce Dining Hall and the evening session was devoted entirely to Law Enforcement, the speakers being: Commander John W. Pennington, Prohibition Administrator of Western Pennsylvania; Leo H. McKay, District Attorney of Mercer county and Dr. J. M. Doran of Washington, D. C., the National Commissioner of Prohibition. All of these speakers brought out that prohibition can be enforced and that the 18th Amendment has been a great boon to the material and spiritual welfare of the boys and girls, men and women of this great nation. They stated that the present was a critical time as more false and insidious propaganda is being distributed at the present time by the enemies of prohibition than ever before.

Sunday morning the delegates visited the Adult Bible class of the churches of Pittsburgh. Sunday afternoon the address was as follows:

Worship, led by Dr. O. W. Warmingham. Address, "Trends in Adult Christian Education." Rev. Harry C. Munro, Chicago, Ill., Adult Director of International Council of Religious Education.

The convention closed with a general discussion on the subject: "Prohibition at its worst—Better than Boozing at its Best." This was discussed by Dr. W. I. Wishart, President, Pittsburgh Council of Churches; Mrs. Ella George, Legislative Chairman of Pennsylvania W. C. T. U.; Dr. R. H. Martin, President, National Reform Association and Hon. John W. Vickers, President, Pennsylvania State A. B. C. Federation.

Swick Votes For High Tariff Rates

Local Congressman Stands Consistently For Higher Tariff Program

(Special To The News) WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5.—Although the house went on a rate-slashing rampage when it took up the controversial rates in the tariff bill upon which no agreement had been reached by the conferees of the two houses, Representative J. Howard Swick has insistently stood for the higher rates.

Ninety-one Republicans joined 137 Democrats and the one farmer-labor member in favor of concurring in the senate rate of two cents per pound on Cuban sugar as against the 2.40 per cent rate originally set by the house, but Congressmen Swick was among the 146 Republicans and 14 Democrats who voted against the lower rate, which, however, prevailed by a vote of 229 to 160. The present rate on Cuban sugar is 1.76 cents.

Swick voted to accept the modified senate duty of 75 cents a thousand board feet on fir, spruce, pine, hemlock and larch lumber and railroad ties and telegraph poles of all woods, all of which are now on the free list, but it was rejected, 250 to 144, and subsequently the entire group was put on the free list. Shingles also were placed on the free list, 279 to 110, although Swick was among those who preferred the house 25 per cent duty. The congressman was with the majority, however, on the proposal to strike from the measure the senate provision to permit free entry of cement intended for public works by state and municipal governments. The senate amendment was rejected by a vote of 222 to 157, the only instance in which Congressman Swick's high tariff tendencies prevailed.

MASTERY

A group of men in the meat packing industry sat down to dinner the other night. They ate cantaloupe, steaks, fresh asparagus, green peas, and ripe strawberries. Everything was fresh, and yet everything out of season except the meat, which was two years old. It was a demonstration of the triumph of the new quick-freezing system of preserving food. Apparently there is nothing man can't do to minister to the needs and desires of his physical side. With such growing intelligence one wonders what man will some day do in the world of the spirit. There are great victories to be won—by this same ingenuity.

WILLACOOCHIEE

Willacoochee, Ga., a town of 1200 souls, has adjusted itself to the modern day—or night. A new ordinance says young people may stay out after midnight—but not grown-up people, unless they give the village marshal a good reason. The ordinance makes it unlawful for people to loiter on the streets after midnight, although it is stated that the law is not meant to be construed to the effect that young people who have gone away earlier in the evening cannot come home at a late hour. No blue laws here. No old-fashioned severity. Old folks ought to be come early. Why should they be out late? In Willacoochee youth will have its days and nights.

ROLLING

A congressman from Nebraska attributes his suppleness at 70 to his practice of rolling over on a cement floor 30 times every morning. Perhaps other congressmen do the same thing. Perhaps it does something to their heads.

THE EASIEST WAY

The editor of a small town newspaper whose name is unfortunately unknown to this writer tears down one life policy and sets up another in simple and masterful fashion all in a few lines. One might well paste his essay on a conspicuous wall. He says: "Too many people are absolutely indifferent to work. They take no interest in doing it exactly right, in doing it quickly, or in getting it out on time. Life to them is just one long-drawn-out dream of 'getting by' in the easiest way, and with as little exertion as possible, of either mind or body. Their idea seems to be to 'let George do it.' Again, there are others, splendid examples of those who know what to do and have the capacity and willingness to do their part. All such are great factors and forces in making a business go and grow."

Texas And Wyoming Plant Mothers' Trees

Custom Inaugurated In Pennsylvania Near Reading In 1923

Spade Used In Original Ceremony To Be Lent To Southerners

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Two states, Texas and Wyoming, will plant white birch trees to honor mothers on Mothers' Day, May 11, following the custom nationalized by The American Forestry Association. Officials of the state of Texas will take part in the ceremonies sponsored by the Old Time Trail Drivers of Texas, when the state Mothers' Tree is planted in the grounds of the historic Alamo.

A white birch, the tree designated to honor motherhood, will be planted at Lusk, Wyoming, as the state Mothers' Tree under the auspices of the Luke Voorhees Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The custom of planting white birch trees to honor mothers was inaugurated in 1923 when the initial tree was dedicated with impressive ceremonies on the shores of Lake Antietam, Pennsylvania. The American Forestry Association sponsored this movement and nationalized the custom to the end that thousands of beautiful white birch trees may stand throughout the United States as lasting tributes to motherhood. The practice was given national significance when a white birch tree was planted the following year in the White House grounds and dedicated to the mothers of the Presidents, and later when one was planted with beautiful pageantry and an impressive program on the grounds of the Capitol of the United States, and consecrated to the mothers of the nation.

The spade used at the planting of the original Mothers' Tree will be lent according to custom, by The American Forestry Association for the ceremonies in Texas. It is always dated up in advance for tree-planting ceremonies throughout the year for the dedicating of Mothers' Trees is advocated not only on Mothers' Day.

The white birch was chosen as the Mothers' Tree because of its personal characteristics—its dignity and beauty; its white stem, which whittles with the years; its habit of growth, with drooping sheltering arms; and because it grows and prospers nearly everywhere. The American Forestry Association issues Certificates of Planting when detailed information is furnished concerning the planting of Mothers' Trees.

The immigration policy is based on the idea that 400,000 more aliens each year can serve America by helping the natives howl for jobs.

You can't expect much in a land that elects officials who promise lower taxes and more free service.

New York Taxi Cab Driver Gets Bitter Lesson

Drives Beautiful Woman From New York To Pittsburgh And Gets Nothing For It

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—James J. Metzner, New York cab driver, is en route through the Allegheny mountains back to Gotham today, his meter recording unpaid mileage that seems destined to continue unpaid.

All because of a beautiful burnette who persuaded Metzner to drive her from New York to Youngstown, O., and then deserted her chauffeur here. The fair passenger boarded Metzner's cab Saturday in downtown New York, called out "Curtis Field in a hurry!" and settled down on the cushions. Curtis Field officials were politely adamant in refusing to place a plane at her disposal for a New York-Youngstown hop.

So she decided to go by cab. Metzner drove.

The cab pulled into Pittsburgh early Sunday. The girl dropped in at a local hotel to "call up home to tell them I'm coming."

But she kept right on going—out through the side door of the hotel.

Metzner put $2 more mileage on the cab meter driving around Pittsburgh in an effort to locate her. Then he headed back to New York.

The meter read $18.20—plus the meals which Metzner had bought on the 13-hour ride from New York.

Woman Is Killed In Auto Crash

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 5.—Mrs. Fred Broker, 35, of Penn., was instantly killed, her husband so badly injured that his recovery is doubtful and the couple's three children slightly injured when the car, driven by Mrs. Broker, got out of control overturned, crashed through a guard post, and rolled over into a meadow. The accident occurred at 1 Sunday afternoon, a mile south of Mamont on the Delmont road.

The body of Mrs. Broker was removed to a morgue in Jeannette. Mr. Broker was removed to the Westmoreland hospital. His car was almost entirely severed, his skull fractured and he is in a serious state of shock. The Broker girl, 17, a girl of 14 and a boy baby escaped with nothing more serious than cuts.

Ford Sends Complete Set Of Old McGuffey Readers

SHARON, May 5.—Mrs. Helen B. Thomas, wife of Alderman Henry G. Thomas, 203 Spruce avenue, a grandniece of William Holmes McGuffey and Alexander H. McGuffey, compilers of the famous McGuffey readers, has been honored by Henry Ford, Detroit auto magnate, who has just sent her a complete set of the readers.

Mrs. Thomas last summer attended the 100th anniversary of the Chattanooga institution, of which the father of Mrs. Thomas A. Edison was one of the founders, and "Light's Golden Jubilee" in honor of Mr. Edison and his discovery of the incandescent electric light. There she met Mr. Edison and Mr. Ford.

The latter, upon finding that Mrs. Thomas was a grandniece of the famous educators, in whose history and works he is so greatly interested that he has started a large McGuffey collection in his museum at Dearborn, Mich., learned many valuable facts about the compilers of the readers, as related to the Sharon woman by her grandmother, Mrs. Harriett McGuffey Love, a resident of North Sharon for many years. Mrs. Love was a half sister of William and Alexander McGuffey, and as the last sur-information that he desired about the McGuffey family history and the auto manufacturer was greatly impressed with her kindness.

In preparing the McGuffey collection for his Dearborn museum, he located, after much difficulty, a complete set of the readers, known as "McGuffey's New Eclectic Readers," and had a large number of sets of the volumes reprinted for private distribution among his friends.

It is one of these new sets which he sent Mrs. Thomas. The books, for use in the first six grades of school, contain the illustrations used in the original editions.

Naturally, Mrs. Thomas prizes the books very highly, both for their historical value and because they are a gift from Mr. Ford.

With the volumes, he sent a large picture of the Dearborn museum and another picture of the historic village which he is reconstructing at Dearborn.

Miners Discuss Efforts To Keep Parker Off Bench

Tri-District Convention Of Miners Discuss Judge
Parker's Case

(International News Service)
HAZELTON, Pa., May 5.—The Tri-District convention of the United Mine Workers of America convened here this morning for the fourth day of the convention and launched at once into discussion of the appointments of Judge John J. Parker to the supreme court bench of the United States.

James McGinnis, of Scranton, called attention to the protests sent last night to Senator O. F. Glenn by John L. Lewis, International president of the U. M. W. A. and chairman of the convention.

Lewis explained that he had sent the telegraph to add to the formal resolution of the protest against the Parker appointment, because "every open shop and every non-union influence is being engaged in the fight to have Judge Parker placed on the supreme court bench."

Outlines Steps.
When informed by one of the delegates that he had been criticised for "side-stepping" the issue, Lewis replied that he was sorry to learn that and outlined the steps he has taken against the confirmation of Parker.

In spite of another resolution condemning President Hoover for nominating Parker, Lewis reminded the delegate that President Hoover is still the president of the country and therefore should be respected as such. The resolution was adopted amid cheers.

Federal Banks To Be Investigated By Senate Order

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—An investigation into the operation of the federal reserve and national banking systems, with special reference to their activities in the stock market, was ordered by the senate today.

The inquiry will be conducted by the senate's banking and currency committee. The probe will include the action of the banks in trading on the market, in handling call loans to brokers, the formation of investment and security trusts and the development of chain and branch banking.

Senator King (D) of Utah, originally proposed the inquiry but it was modified along lines suggested by Senator Carter Glass (D) of Virginia, a former secretary of the treasury. It was adopted unanimously.

Skull Is Fractured In Auto Accident

CORRY, Pa., May 5.—Raymond Spiesman, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spiesman, was probably fatally injured when he was run down on the Findley Lake road by a car driven by James Hughes of this city. The car bringing the victim of this accident and two companions, George Aldrich and Samuel Bell, to this city from a dance near Clymer, was thrown into the ditch, whereupon Spiesman attempted to halt the next approaching driver, who happened to be Hughes, who could not see Spiesman on the pavement, striking him and running over his entire body. Spiesman was rushed into the Corry hospital, where his condition today was reported extremely critical, he having suffered a fractured skull, broken shoulder blade, fractured ribs, punctured lungs and internal injuries.

Higher Level Of Prices In Market

Industrial And Specialty
Stocks Climb Back
Few Points

TERRIFIC PACE
SET BY MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The industrial stocks and specialties which tumbled abruptly in the final three sessions of last week received better support today and, after early unsettlement, climbed back to a slightly higher level of prices.

The market set up a terrific pace as 2,300,000 shares churned around up to the noon period. The tape at that time was 45 minutes late, and indications were that the first 7,000,000-share day of the year would be recorded. Outside business and industrial reports, as a whole, were favorable.

The amusement stocks, utilities and popular specialties were the first to emerge from the slump into which the market has been thrown by the latest avalanche of selling. The 12:30 p. m. bulletins from the stock exchange floor showed that General Electric had moved up since the opening to 76 1/4 for a gain of 3 1/4 points; that United States Steel had won back 2 points at 172 1/4; Warner Brothers had rallied 2 points to 75 1/2; Radio Keith a point to 39 1/2; Westinghouse nearly 5 points to 165; American Tel. & Tel. 2 points to 242 1/2; Standard Oil of New Jersey 1 1/4 to 74 1/4; Columbia Gas 2 to 72 1/2; United Aircraft 2 to 66.

Sets Fast Pace.
Professionals whipped up the market to the swiftest pace since the break in November, but there were fewer indications of "distress selling" of margin accounts or the opening up of stop-loss orders in the active industries.

The copper stocks and a few of the motors and industrials were under pressure as the day advanced. Anaconda dipped 1 1/2 to the year's lowest price at 56, while American Smelting, Andes and Kennecott lost a point each. Hudson dropped 3 points to the year's low price at 41 1/8 and Chrysler to 32 1/8, down 1 3/8. Auburn lost 17 points at 183. Simmons company was again under fire and moved down 3 points to a new low at 39 1/2. Mercantile or "store" stocks were not able to make much headway, and for the most part sold lower.

It was not easy to stimulate buying interest because of the confusion in financial circles over important domestic and international affairs. The tariff bill is coming in for considerable criticism, with increasing demand for its defeat in congress or veto by the president. Preparations for floating the German reparation loan are apparently taking precedence over all other matters in some sections of the financial district.

Though trading was extremely heavy in the third hour, price changes were narrow, most of the favorites following the trend established earlier in the day. The call loan rate was cut to 3 per cent with plenty funds offered at that rate. Commodity markets were steady with narrow price changes.

Asks For Sentence, Judge Accommodates Pittsburgh Husband

Husband Would Rather Be In Jail For Ten Days Than Spend Them With Wife
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—John Markowitz, 35, arrested during an altercation with his wife, asked for and received a jail sentence in morals court today.

Mary Markowitz, the wife, said she was willing to give her husband another chance. Her husband beat her, she testified, because she was out of work.

Markowitz promptly spoke up and said he would rather go to jail than go back with his wife.

Court sentenced him to 10 days in jail with the option of a $10 fine.

BANISH MUSIC?

"PLEASE don't," plead millions of theatrogoers.
"Better not," warn wise showmen.
"Sure we will," declare industrialists who control canned music in the theatres. "The public can learn to like records as well as orchestras. Anyway, that's what they're going to get."

And so the issue is defined: Shall talking pictures be used as an excuse for reducing the theatre to a dehumanized museum (without reduction in admission charge). Or, shall the atmosphere of the theatre be retained and the cause of culture served through a victory for music? Managers of high-class theatres recognize that real music is essential, and as they continue to provide it.

Preclude Any Attempt By Prisoners To Escape By Means Of Tunnel In Earth

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—Discovering the start of an underground tunnel from the convicts' stockade toward an outside wall, officials at Ohio state penitentiary today made extraordinary precautions to preclude any attempted escape of prisoners.

The tunnel had been started from an unoccupied tent in the barbed wire stockade. A hole about two feet long had been tunneled. Two shovels also were discovered.

Two Men Fight To Their Death Over Woman's Attentions

California Policeman And Civilian Battle To Death In Apartment Room

(International News Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., May 5.—Two men were dead here today after a desperate fight in an apartment, and a woman, who thus far has refused to disclose her name, was held in jail while police sought to clear up details of the tragedy.

The dead men were Alex M. Sanderson, Oakland policeman, and George E. Mellin, 32 of Alameda.

Shot through the head and abdomen, Sanderson was still alive, but unconscious, when officers arrived. He died shortly after being taken to a hospital. Mellin had been shot three times through the back.

The woman was traced to another apartment in the building when police found her necklace and articles of clothing in the apartment where the shooting occurred.

The two men and the woman were evidently eating and drinking at a table when the quarrel began.

During the struggle furniture and

House Committee Summons Whalen

New York Police Commissioner Must Explain Secret Investigation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Grover Whalen, police commissioner of New York, will be asked to appear at an executive session of the house immigration committee this week to explain his recent investigation of the activities of Red agents in the United States, Chairman Johnson (R) of Washington announced today.

The committee considered the statements that Commissioner Whalen has made, said Johnson. "We decided to call the commissioner before us."

"We are also getting information about these Red activities from other sources. All we want Commissioner Whalen to do is give this committee whatever information he has available."

Murderer Goes On Trial Today

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Genaro Priolo, 40, of Stowe township, went on trial for his life here today for the slaying of Anthony Colosimo, 38, of McKees Rocks.

Assistant District Attorney Earl R. Adair, in charge of the prosecution, demanded the death penalty for Priolo who is alleged to have killed Colosimo during a quarrel.

Priolo lay in wait for Colosimo at night, detectives charged, and after shooting his victim fled to Youngstown where he was apprehended.

Pinchot Extends Stay In Western Pennsylvania Seeking Primary Votes

Senator Grundy Winds Up In Erie And Goes To Philadelphia After Votes

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—With only one major office candidate in their midst, Western Pennsylvania voters relaxed somewhat today after a strenuous week of absorbing political knowledge and of listening to promises and warnings of politicians.

Former Governor Gifford Pinchot, seeking a second term in the governor's chair at Harrisburg, was the only important state office seeker left in the Pittsburgh vicinity today. Pinchot's schedule called for a noon meeting in Kittanning, Pa., and a mass meeting in Wilkensburg tonight, in addition to a radio talk over a local station early tonight.

Prior to the Wilkensburg meeting, a parade through the principal streets of the city was to be held. The program included speeches by Pinchot and his running mate, Charles F. Armstrong, candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, senatorial aspirant, and Francis Shunk Brown, candidate for governor on the same ticket, have shifted their activity from western to central Pennsylvania. They planned to make a tour of principal cities in that section this week.

Seeks Coal Vote
Senator Joseph R. Grundy, opposing Davis for the Republican nomination for senator, concluded his week's campaign in Erie Saturday and today had gone to Philadelphia. He will remain there this week making trips in to the anthracite regions.

A statement issued by Grundy's Western Pennsylvania campaign manager before the candidate left for the eastern section of the state, claimed Grundy will carry Erie county in the coming primary election by a large majority. It was the first claim put forth by the Manager Samuel C. Jamison.

The Phillips-Bohlen ticket, backing the candidacy of Thomas W. Phillips, Jr., for governor, Francis H. Bohlen of Senator, and Charles A. Dorrance for Lieutenant-Governor, will not make another flourish for primary votes in this section until Thursday night.

A mass meeting to be held in Carnegie music hall is planned for that night. Col. Samuel Harden Church, President of Carnegie Institute of Technology, will preside at the meeting. The principal speaker will be Major Henry H. Curran, president of the National association against the prohibition amendment.

RECEPTION AND BRIDGE FOR WIVES OF LIONS CONVENTION FEATURES

Mrs. Andy Marino and Mrs. George Sanborn.
Mrs. Philip K. Howard, of Reading, was the first woman to register.

Tea at The Castleton
This afternoon, from 3:00 to 5:00, the tea committee has arranged for a reception and tea in The Castleton. Some 60 women are expected to attend the reception. Tea will be poured by Mrs. James Blackwood and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz.

Included among the members of the tea committee are Mrs. Jack Waddington, Mrs. A. M. Shoenker, Mrs. Burr Rogers, Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Mrs. W. H. Hodgkinson, Mrs. John Dunfee, Mrs. C. J. Strieb, Mrs. T. M. Shaffer and Mrs. Alfred Chilton. Mrs. Hughes Bartlett is chairman of this committee. The reception and tea, in charge of such able workers, promises to be most successful.

Stunt night program and ball to be held in the Cathedral this evening, will be another enjoyable event for the wives, with their husbands.

Luncheon Bridge
An interesting 50 mile automobile tour, for members and wives, will be a feature of Tuesday morning. At one o'clock, Tuesday, the women will motor to the New Castle Field Club, where they will enjoy a luncheon-bridge. Eighty-five women are expected to attend and there will be twenty-four or twenty-five tables of bridge and 500.

The reception committee at the Field club will consist of Mrs. J. L. Reed, chairman; Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. Earl Book, Mrs. Ezra Marvin, Mrs. Hughes Bartlett, Mrs. John W. Miller, Mrs. Clarence Patterson, Mrs. W. H. Hodgkinson, Mrs. C. J. Strieb, and Mrs. John Dunfee.

Bridge and 500 prizes have been arranged by a committee consisting of Mrs. J. B. Waddington, chairman; Mrs. Earl Ramsey, Mrs. William Mayberry and Mrs. Clarence Patterson.

Mrs. B. K. Thacker, Mrs. W. C. Mechem, Mrs. C. J. Strieb and Mrs. T. M. Shaffer deserve praise for donating the tulips which will be used for decoration at the luncheon bridge. With the tulips as center pieces, variegated and green tones will be carried out at each individual place.

Committee in charge of card playing includes Mrs. A. W. Cubbison, Mrs. C. G. Snyder, Mrs. Andy Marino, and Mrs. Earl Book. Mrs. Burr Rogers is chairman.

Then, the wives will attend the big convention banquet, Tuesday evening, and the convention ball after the banquet.

Mrs. Thomas I. Elliott, general chairman, has seen to it that the program for the women is just as complete as the men's. From noon today until midnight tomorrow, the women's schedule of events will take every moment of their time, with entertainments, luncheons, a reception, a sight seeing trip, banquets, dances and organ and band recitals.

All in all, when the wives return to their respective cities they will have a great number of most enjoyable memories of their brief stay in New Castle, of the things they have seen and of the people they have met.

Will Not Prevent Stockholders Meet

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—The government will take no action to prevent a meeting of the stockholders of the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse to vote on a proposed merger of Radio facilities, it was announced today by John Lord O'Brien, assistant attorney general. Reports have been current that the department of justice would intervene to prevent the stockholders from taking affirmative action.

"These reports are untrue," said O'Brien. "The department does not contemplate any action to prevent this meeting. As is well known, the department is now conducting a general investigation into the radio industry, and the results are still under study."

There is not much hope for the person who makes work the last expedient for getting along.

Fire Damages Dr. Davis' Garage

$300 Damage Results From Blaze Saturday Evening;
Answer Other Alarms

Damage of approximately $300 resulted from a fire in the garage and apartment owned by Dr. C. W. Davis in the rear of 306 North Cedar street Saturday evening at 5:30.

The blaze originated in a small shed adjoining the garage building, which is a frame and concrete block structure, spreading to the second floor of the building where it went out through the roof.

The second floor was occupied by J. E. Robins and family, where most of the damage was done.

Firemen were called to the store of Doherty and Habib of 8 East Washington street Saturday, where small damage was done to the rear of the building when someone threw a lighted cigar into a pile of paper and rubbish. The blaze was extinguished with a bucket of water. An alarm was turned in from Box 25.

Firemen were called to 314 East Long avenue at 2:45 Sunday afternoon, where boys smoking cigarettes in a barn owned by H. Thomas, caused a small blaze with a loss of approximately $10.

Why It Pays

to Have Your Rugs CLEANED!

Each step you take over the surface of your carpets grinds the dirt deeper and deeper—bits of sand rub and wear away the delicate texture of rugs. If rugs are kept clean this grinding process is absent, and rugs last longer. To get the most life and value out of rugs, keep them free from dirt. Our efficient process gets every single speck of dirt and keeps rugs new.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Emphasize Carefulness In Training

If you have a child slow in spelling, reading or arithmetic, the chances are that he has been arrested in his progress by his eagerness for speed.

He would rather be rapid than right. For him, accuracy is forever on the scaffold, speed forever on the throne. He wants to spell many words in a given time, read many sentences, work many problems. He seems to have no passion for precision; correctness seems to have no meaning to his young life; he is always in a hurry. The more he hastens, the more mistakes pile up for him and, the slower, in the long run, can he go.

When he studies his words to spell, he does not look carefully at each word. Perhaps he sees some of the letters in the word and guesses at the rest, or he correctly spells the word once or twice looking at it, and turns away to test himself, spelling it wrong.

When he reads he calls out, and, of course, with when. He must say something quickly. He does not take time to look at the words carefully nor to figure out what it is that he is reading. The training he is likely to get at school may force him to work for meaning; but at the same time he feels he must hurry. He, therefore, is likely to read a phrase or sentence without seeing it, or enough of it, to be nearly accurate. When he works at his arithmetic he goes at it in the same jumpy, hurry, harum-scurum fashion. He tries to make an answer quickly. If he is not sure he guesses, and he often guesses.

He sees other children spelling rapidly, reading fast and working surely with speed. Some of them are very accurate, indeed. He wants to do as well. He seems to think he can if he will hurry. But the more he hurries the slower he becomes and the greater his confusion grows.

Now your hope in helping him is in your ability to train him in habits of carefulness. Your problem is to help him learn to calm down, to try to do less, and to work for quality of performance. You have no easy task; for with the almost universal emphasis upon speed in the modern classroom, the child really feels that he must always hurry.

Don't condemn his teacher; don't go to school to tell her how to teach. You don't employ her. You are not her boss. She does as she is told to do.

Just make your child, when he learns to spell, or read, or do arithmetic at home, feel as if he has a million years. Help him forget time and to think only of doing well the thing he is working at. You may find the need to say to him calmly: "Now take your time; s-l-o-w-l-y, c-a-r-e-f-u-l-l-y." In spelling urge him to take ample time to see the whole word and to name every letter in exact order while looking at it, before he attempts to spell it. Urge him to look back at the word if at all in doubt.

If he reads poorly give him easy material to read alone to you. Induce him to take sufficient time to look at each word carefully, even to study slowly a complete sentence before reading it aloud. Work for an attitude of leisure in him and in yourself. At best, both of you are inclined to "race your engines."

Likewise in arithmetic, help the slow child by leading him to work calmly with a genuine interest in accuracy.

Work for correctness in performance, in a wholly comfortable atmosphere, and speed will follow. The speedy child may also be accurate, but a stop-watch can't promote precision. Hurry the child and he will work more slowly; get him to work calmly and his rate of speed will rise.

Bessemer High School Notes

THE SENIORS' PHOTOGRAPHS

As is customary for the graduating class to be photographed before graduation, the seniors this year chose Thursday afternoon, May 1, to go to New Castle and have their pictures taken. However, this year a new plan was followed. Besides the usual individual pictures, a group picture was also taken.

So that the regular school work would not be interfered with, the seniors had classes during their usually vacant periods in the morning.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The date for the presentation of the senior play, entitled "The Ghost Bird," has been changed, due to certain other engagements interfering. It will be presented on May 16 in the high school auditorium.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

The annual junior-senior banquet took place on Thursday evening, May 1. The committees and people in charge were as follows:

Refreshments — Frances Griffin, chairman; Mary Brund, Ivy Davidson, Rose Solovsky, Jane Gilmore. Entertainment — Eleanor Throop, chairman; Anna Hulina, Charles Grist, Lawrence Kimminken, Joe Polls, Nicholas Brentin, Margaret Davidson.

Decorations — Gordon Nelson, chairman; Taito Puromaki, Frank Stanish, Joe Wolfe, Sterling McKee.

Invitation — Thelma DeArment, chairman; Vera Sepic.

The juniors appointed the girls from the sophomore class as waitresses at the banquet, which consisted of a four-course dinner, elaborately prepared and served in the study hall of the new high school addition. Speeches were interspersed with the courses, and after the banquet the group transferred to the auditorium. The whole affair was the most elaborate and colorful ever held in Bessemer high school, a fitting event in honor of the class of 1930.

NEW PLAY IN FRENCH

The French II class under the supervision of Miss Mary Smith, is taking up the study of the play "Little Red Riding Hood" called in French, "Chapereau Rouge". It has five characters in it.

ASSEMBLY

A. L. Winters was in charge of the assembly program this week. He had the mixed chorus, boys' chorus and girls' chorus sing the numbers which they sang at the contest in New Castle, for the benefit of the junior high boys and girls who did not go to New Castle. The orchestra also played the two numbers played at the contest. There was also a talk on track and baseball.

Thursday, April 4, marked the end of the sixth six weeks period. Examinations were given during the week and report cards were distributed Thursday noon, May 1.

ACTIVITIES

The Betsy Ross club held a scout meeting during the 45-minute activity period.

Reports from the Current Science magazine were given by members of the science club.

The members of the boys' athletic club played baseball during the period. Now that the great contest is over the members of the girls' glee club are relaxing. They used the period for gym dancing.

The orchestra resumed the usual practice. Members of the archery club are making arrows. The members of the travel club are continuing the reading of the "U. P. Trail."

CONTEST

The mixed chorus, boys' chorus, girls' chorus, band and orchestra of this high school went to New Castle Friday, April 25, to compete in the

Thin Folks Gain Weight and Health

Sickly, tired out folks must be benefited speedily says McKees, Eckerd's and Love & Megown or money back.

Since Scientists have discovered the fact that we must have a plentiful supply of Vitamins in our bodies in order to keep healthy and vigorous, millions of people have just learned that life is worth living.

The thin, weak, tired out, despondent, nervous person that is at all up-to-date takes Nature's own Vitamins instead of drugs—they have learned that lack of Vitamins in the body causes most of the ill health in the world.

Probably ninety per cent of the men and women in America would feel better—would be more vigorous and keener minded if they had more Vitamins in their body.

The quick and sure way to get these Vitamins into your body is to take McKees' Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets, which are brimful of weight building and energy creating Vitamins—no drugs whatever.

Why not try them—Nature's own Vitamins can do you nothing but good. You can get them at McKees, Eckerd's and Love & Megown. 60 tablets, 60 cents. Take them as directed for 21 days and then if not joyfully satisfied, get your money back. Just ask for McKees' at any drugstore in America.

REGAINED HEALTH TEN HERBS MEDICINE IS CREDITED

New Herbal Remedy Brings Relief From Serious Ills.

Thousands of ailing men and women are finding relief through Ten Herbs, the remarkable herbat remedy for the relief of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

MRS. MARY DAILEY

"It is a real pleasure to recommend Ten Herbs and tell how your wonderful medicine benefited me," was the statement made by Mrs. Mary Dailey, 1512 Fourth Ave., Beaver Falls, Pa.

"I had indigestion so bad that I was bothered terribly with gas and bloating. I had rheumatic pains in my left side and nagging pains near my kidneys. My liver was disordered and I had blotches on my face. I was dizzy and had sores before my eyes and was very nervous. For two years before I took your medicine I could not do my household duties but now I have regained my health and strength. I have no trouble with my stomach and I am free from gas, bloating and rifting after a meal. The rheumatic pains in my side and the pains in my back have been relieved. My liver is in good order. I don't have those weak spells, dizziness and spots before my eyes. My nerves are steadier. I will highly endorse Ten Herbs."

Ten Herbs is being introduced at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, and is sold by all leading druggists throughout this entire section.

Six Killed In English Blast

Report Six Dead, Over 100 Injured In Explosion At Liverpool, England

(International News Service) LIVERPOOL, May 5.—Six persons were killed and over 100 injured, some of them seriously, when a terrific explosion partially demolished an oil cake factory here today.

The victims were trapped in the building by the blast. An immediate investigation was launched in an effort to determine its cause.

Local Breeder Selects Trade Name

T. C. Post, whose herd of purebred Holstein dairy cattle is well known in New Castle, has recently chosen a trade mark name to identify his herd, according to an announcement made by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America which registered the name for the breeder. The name chosen as a part of the name of each individual animal in the herd is "Neshannock."

All registered Holsteins have a name and number, the name usually indicating the ancestral blood lines.

Thin Folks Gain Weight and Health

Sickly, tired out folks must be benefited speedily says McKees, Eckerd's and Love & Megown or money back.

Since Scientists have discovered the fact that we must have a plentiful supply of Vitamins in our bodies in order to keep healthy and vigorous, millions of people have just learned that life is worth living.

The thin, weak, tired out, despondent, nervous person that is at all up-to-date takes Nature's own Vitamins instead of drugs—they have learned that lack of Vitamins in the body causes most of the ill health in the world.

Probably ninety per cent of the men and women in America would feel better—would be more vigorous and keener minded if they had more Vitamins in their body.

The quick and sure way to get these Vitamins into your body is to take McKees' Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets, which are brimful of weight building and energy creating Vitamins—no drugs whatever.

Why not try them—Nature's own Vitamins can do you nothing but good. You can get them at McKees, Eckerd's and Love & Megown. 60 tablets, 60 cents. Take them as directed for 21 days and then if not joyfully satisfied, get your money back. Just ask for McKees' at any drugstore in America.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Having spent three years covering the Supreme Court for the old New York Herald, our opinion of the average New York lawyer is considerable less than nothing. And here is one of the latest reasons:

Six men of law were recently called in to defend a man who in a fit of rage killed his boarding house mistress and her son. It seems the woman and the youth got the man down on the floor during an argument and stepped on a carbuncle he was wearing on his neck.

The best the six-count team—six lawyers could do for him was to advise a plea of guilty. He drew a sentence of 32 years.

If he had had only one lawyer, he might have got off with five years. Page Mr. Blackstone.

CONSTANT WIFE

"If I win, she's the manager. If I lose, I'm it."

It is Uncle Wilbert Robinson speaking, and he is referring to the good wife.

The handsome County Limerick spouse of the manager of the Brooklyn Baseball club has not only gone to 7,500 games since she married "Uncle Robby," but she has had baseball for breakfast, luncheon and dinner, for, lo, these many years.

"Robby" manages the team, but "Ma" manages him, and she says she's the second baseball guesser in the world.

"Sure, I've had a hard life, chuckles "Ma." But if we win the pennant this year, I imagine I can survive it.

ADD BREAKS

Two years ago Gladys Brov came to New York from Louisville, Ky., under the happy delusion that her pretty face, wonderful hair and more curves than the B and O., would whiz her right into a brilliant stage career. Two months later she was manuevering in the Hotel Lincoln for cakes and coffee. Admitting finally she was licked, she prepared to go back home.

Friends invited her to a party on her last evening in Manhattan where she met a famous artist. Her beauty won him, and she was invited to pose. Twenty-four hours after one of her pictures appeared on the cover of a popular magazine this month, two motion picture companies were telephoning her. Now she is taking camera tests, and soon will be on the way to Hollywood and the big chance.

Gladys stuck it out and got a break—hundreds of girls who come to Broadway each year are swallowed by the Dragon.

FROM LITTLE ACORNS.

Gus Hill gave to musical comedy "Mutt and Jeff" and "Bringing Up Father," first of the comic strips staged. Now, at seventy, he is planning to take to the road again with a troupe of sixty players in motor buses and scenery truck, and play under tents.

"If I could only get some of my old actors back who started with me at $50 a week and less, but are now full tent with those names?" asked Gus. We told him we thought he could, and we would buy the first ticket.

Last Search For Men Missing In War Asked

Final Appeal Made To Allied Governments To Determine Fate Of Those Lost

LONDON, May 5.—One last appeal is to be made to the allied governments to locate some of the army of missing men who disappeared between 1914 and 1918.

The "Prisoners of War Support Association" is asking veterans of the various countries to organize campaigns of search to see if the fate of such prisoners of war as have not returned to their homes can be determined.

Nearly 48,000 men are missed by

France and 8,000 by Great Britain. Italy, by energetic search, has traced all but 5,000 of the soldiers who did not return. The figures for Russia and the split up Austro-Hungarian empire are not known, but a large registered figure is shown by Germany, where relatives are still waiting for 24,000 men.

Numerous official circles assume that many prisoners of war sent to Siberia first postponed travel through Russia during the hectic days of revolution and then abandoned intention to return. Many of these men married under assumed names and can not return because of possible bigamy charges.

Finally there are the tragic cases of men who never came back because hardships destroyed their memories.

"Miss 1930 is dressing more smartly than ever," says a fashion expert.—But her young man has to wait as long as ever.—Pearson's Weekly.

Don't fool yourself!

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Get rid of halitosis—it may get you fired

What kind of people do employers like to have around them? Certainly not people with halitosis (unpleasant breath). You can't blame a man for firing an employee with halitosis to hire one without it.

Don't fool yourself that you never have halitosis. It's impossible for you to know when you are a victim. Don't take the chance. Keep yourself continually on the safe and polite side by daily rinsing the mouth with Lis-terine, the safe antiseptic. Being an active germicide capable of killing 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds, full strength Listerine checks mouth fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then it gets rid of the odors themselves; it is an instant deodorant.

Judge Parker Is Doomed To Defeat By Hostile Senate

President Hoover's Efforts To Stem Tide Against North Carolinian Unavailing

49 SENATORS TO VOTE REJECTION

Friends Of Parker's Seek To Prolong Debate—Little Change Of Heart Over Week-End

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Hoover's efforts over the week end to save Judge John J. Parker appeared defeated today with a hostile senate ready to reject the jurist's nomination as an associate supreme court justice. An International News Service poll brought up to the minute, showed 49 senators opposing Parker's confirmation, 45 favoring confirmation, one doubtful and one absent without having expressed a choice. The 49 votes in opposition were entirely enough to reject Parker. The vote, when taken tomorrow, however, will show a large number of absentees, with probably from fourteen to sixteen senators paired.

Concede Defeat
Administration leaders privately conceded Parker's defeat and estimated the final vote would be about 43 to 38 against him. The opposition leaders predicted the margin would be five votes and the actual vote about 42 to 37 in either event, Parker would fail of confirmation and continue as a judge on the fourth circuit court of appeals.

Unless there were week end developments not yet noticeable. The president sacrificed his usual jaunt to the Virginia hills without having helped Parker. A number of Republican senators were called to the White House over the week end, including two who were reported opposed to Parker. Both said afterwards that they were still opposed to him.

Prolong Debate
A third senator, reported publicly as against Parker but known to have pledged his vote privately in support of the nominee, also visited Mr. Hoover. Administration leaders claimed his vote after the visit but it made no difference on the outcome.

Friends of Parker planned to prolong debate today so the final vote may be postponed until tomorrow. One reason for the delay was to allow Senator David A. Reed (R) of Pa., and Senator William H. King (D) of Utah, both friendly to Parker, to reach the senate in time to vote. Reed is returning from the London Parley and King from a trip to Europe.

Prayer In Congress

The senate met at 12 o'clock meridian in open executive session.

Rev. James W. Morris, D. D., of the city of Washington, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and everliving God, of whose only gift it cometh that Thy faithful people do unto Thee true and laudable service, we gratefully acknowledge the manifold evidences of Thy good hand upon us both as individuals and as a nation, and we pray Thee that our many blessings may lead us to a holy and humble walk and conversation before Thee.

Especially we invoke Thy grace and guidance, upon these Thy servants, who assemble here to consider the affairs that affect the welfare of our country. Endure them with wisdom; enlighten their minds with the light of Thy Holy Spirit, so that their deliberations shall inure to the best happiness of our land and the enlargement of Thy kingdom. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prosecution For Grover Whalen Is Demanded By Soviets

(International News Service) BERLIN, May 5.—The Soviet government intends to demand the prosecution of Grover Whalen, New York city police commissioner, through the head of the Amtorg Trading Company in New York, according to a telegraphic dispatch received here today from Kono.

The dispatch referred to Whalen's recent announcement of the interception of letters of alleged Soviet origin directing operations in the United States calculated to "stir up rebellion among workers against American enterprises."

The letters, according to Whalen, were instructions addressed to agitators under direction of the Amtorg Trading company, of New York. Soviet officials stoutly maintain the dispatches declared, that the documents made public by Commissioner Whalen are out-and-out forgeries. They take the attitude that the publication is likely seriously to disturb relations between Soviet Russia and America.

All Soviet newspapers commented bitterly on the alleged expose today. The messages said official and semi-official newspapers launched a scathing indictment against alleged counter-revolutionary elements which they hold responsible for circulation of supposedly forged documents designed to discredit the Soviet regime.

Some Americans have arrived in London with the intention of buying old violins. Perhaps it is asking too much that they turn their attentions to antique gramophones.

ROAMING

With Richards
Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Everybody else is doing it so this column wants to hop in with a "Welcome Lions." There seems to be lions from all over the state and from now until Tuesday night the Castleton Hotel will hear some goshawful roars as the tail twisters go into action.

It's a great day for it anyway, almost warm enough to hold an outdoor convention where the Lions could roam the woods at will. Too bad they can't stay over for Friday night and see a night football game.

Some of the brethren outside the city are all hopped up over the possibilities of seeing a football game at this season of the year and the long wait between November and the following year when Cheney high school comes over for a spring game.

Motorists are raising more than their voice concerning the highway from the city line to Walmo over the Wilmington road. Those experimental patches of crushed limestone laid hither and yon in the cement work are spreading out over the cement like a hose of hives and when a car passes you, duck.

One irate citizen already has a broken windshield to show for the flying stones, while another chap with a brand new car has a handful of perfectly lovely scratches on the side of the body. That is the body of the car.

Every time you pass a lad who is hitting the middle it sounds like warfare between some rival gangs and unless you are lucky you are going to get your share of scratches if nothing else.

Bill Caldwell has already given the idea of a lodge some consideration, membership being restricted to those who have got theirs. One scratch on the side makes you a member of the first degree, while a broken windshield gives you a seat in the inner circle.

In case you think the summer isn't coming in a hurry, remember there are only 25 more school days until the summer vacation.

Local Man Invents Box To Foil Milk Thieves

Because of the persistency of thieves who ravaged his porch every morning and stole the milk left there during the early morning hours by the milkman, D. E. Musoman of 208 Shady Side turned inventor and perfected a patent container to foil them.

After he saw how well the thing worked, he had the container patented and is now planning to manufacture it.

The device is simply an insulated box, which can be made any size. It is claimed by the inventor that it will keep milk from freezing for a period of approximately 12 hours in zero weather and will keep it from souring in the heat of the summer.

It has a spring lock on the lid and once the fresh milk has been placed in the box and the lid closed, cannot be opened without a key. Mr. Musoman found the device successful in preventing further thefts of his milk, and is planning to put it on the market. It can be easily attached to the porch post or any spot desired and is neat in design.

Eleven Men Face Hearing On Charge Of Many Robberies

McKeesport Magistrate To Hear Case Against "Modern Fagin" Gang

(International News Service) MCKEESPORT, Pa., May 5.—Ten young men and their leader, a modern "Fagin" who police said taught them to steal and directed their activities, were to be given a hearing today before Magistrate Robert C. Calhoun, McKeesport, charged with a score of robberies.

The gang, confessed to robbing stores, farms, railroad cars and gasoline stations and to hiding the loot on a farm belonging to one of the members. Police said more than $2,000 in loot was recovered.

Those arrested were John Pierce, 42, of Elizabeth township, alleged leader and "peacher" of the gang; John Pierce, 17, his son; Thomas Hobbs, 32, owner of the farm on which the loot was alleged hidden; William Baker, 20, and George Kish, 18, of Elizabeth township; Frank Ross, 20, of Lincoln township; Philip McGaugan, 18, Robert Baker, 22 and Henry Venebush, 18, of McKeesport.

The loot of the gang included money, groceries, a live calf and chickens, a police grilling of the suspects revealed. The calf was stolen from the farm of John L. McKinney and the chickens, 130 in number, from the William McClay farm, both in Elizabeth township.

The men were rounded up Saturday when authorities raided the Hobbs farm.

Delegates Return From Needlework Guild Convention

Mrs. S. J. Callahan and Mrs. J. Elder Bryan have returned from Buffalo, N. Y., where they were delegates to the national convention of the Needlework guild of America in the Statler Hotel Bradford, which was held last week.

On Thursday at the luncheon 750 delegates sat down, representing almost every state in the union, one delegate being present from Santa Barbara, California.

The convention was presided over by Mrs. Grover Cleveland Preston, William J. Norton, who founded so many community chests throughout the country, of Detroit spoke of "Co-Operation in Philanthropic Work". The founder of the guild in Buffalo, a maiden lady of 90 years, invited each delegate to her home where she served tea and scotch cake. Miss Maria Love told the women, when she was born they lived in the country she is still residing in the same house and it is now in the heart of the city, one square from the Statler Hotel in Buffalo. She is an active and entertaining woman and the delegates were surprised when she told her age to them.

There were thirteen delegates from Detroit and 11 from Philadelphia and the convention proved a success in every way.

Ellwood Baseball Team Loses Opening Contest On Saturday

First Contest Of Season Drop-

Pitched For The Locals
In One-Sided Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Ellwood City's baseball team dropped their opening contest Saturday afternoon when they traveled to Beaver Falls and lost by the score of 6 to 2 in an interesting tilt. Beaver Falls started the scoring and maintained a lead throughout the game. Neither team crossed the plate in the first two innings, and in the third the opponents chalked up a lone tally and added one more in the next frame, while the Tubers were unable to score any. The fifth period was scoreless for Ellwood, but Beaver Falls increased their lead by crossing the plate twice.

It was not until the seventh inning that Ellwood was able to score and they secured two markers. Beaver Falls came back strong in the eighth and annexed two runs to make their total six. This ended the scoring for the day, as neither team was able to top any more tallies. Pearson pitched a fine game for the victors, allowing Ellwood only seven hits. Laudrback started the contest for the Tubers, but was replaced by Mundo. Beaver Falls was only able to collect nine hits, but made them good for six runs.

Fritz copped the biggest bit of the day with a triple, while Knapek and McGinley each socked a double. These last two were the outstanding stars of the battle, as each scored two runs and collected the same number of hits. Gales came through with three bingles and crossed the plate once.

Friedoff led the locals hitting attack with three singles and he also made one run, while Marshall collected the other tally for Ellwood. Two double plays were pulled off, the first by Friedoff to Volpe to Irwin, and the second Hamilton to Fritz. This was the first game of the season and marked the inauguration of the Beaver County League. Ellwood has a flashy nine and should prove a real addition to this league. A large crowd of local fans witnessed their home team in action Saturday. Fans who did not witness this tilt will have the opportunity of seeing the locals in action next Saturday, when they clash with Ambridge on the home lot.

Two Cars Collide Sunday Afternoon

Miss Mary Maxwell Offutt And Miss Eleanor Cox Shaken
Up In Collision Here

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—An accident occurred Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Crescent avenue and Ninth street when the car driven by Miss Mary Maxwell Offutt and a car driven by Luther Reno of Wampum collided. The Offutt car was coming up Crescent avenue and the Reno car was moving on Ninth street. Owing to the fact that a pile of bricks is obstructing the view at that particular corner, neither driver could see the other until it was too late. The Reno car crashed into the side of the Offutt car, damaging the fenders and damaging the engine. The Reno car was badly damaged in the front. Both were of the type of cars. Miss Offutt and Miss Eleanor Cox, a passenger in the Offutt car, were badly shaken up, but otherwise unharmed. Both machines had to be towed to garages for repairs.

MORAVIA STOP

SACRED CONCERT
The Men's Bible class of the First Congregational church of New Castle consisting of twenty-five men gave a sacred concert at the Harmony Baptist church on Friday evening. The singers were Welshmen and to those who know the wonderful musical ability of the natives of the "Little Kingdom by the Sea" it was not surprising that the evening was one of unusual pleasure and inspiration. The singers entered the church singing the Welsh arrangement of "Onward Christian Soldiers". The program was entirely sacred and was rendered beautifully and reverently. Rev. S. L. Cobb read the scripture lesson and offered the invocation after which he introduced the entertainers of the evening. Mr. J. C. Williams, chairman, took charge. The chorus and congregation sang "Diadem". William P. Williams gave a reading entitled "The Model Church". Mr. Evan Hopkins rendered a solo and encore. An especially interesting item of the program was the work of Griffith Thomas who recited the twenty-sixth chapter of Acts. This was given entirely without notes or any help and was given perfectly with wonderful clearness of interpretation. Many other numbers were rendered. After the program was completed the guests were invited to the dining room where they were entertained at a chicken supper by the members of the B. Y. P. U. The dining room was beautifully decorated in green and white with spring flowers used on the tables. A number of selections were sung in the dining room closing with a number in the original Welsh. It is hoped that the same group will give another concert at Harmony Baptist in the near future. Those taking part were: D. O. Davies, J. C. Williams, Geo. Thomas, Daniel Hughes, C. E. Turner, H. Evans, W. Jones, Cliff James, Benj. Fowler, Harry Jones, Griffith Thomas, Wm. Powell, Emrys Davies, James Davies, Thomas D. Thomas, William P. Williams, Thomas Grey, Richard Griffith, James Taylor, Joseph Lloyd, David Lewis, James Jenkins, Evan Hopkins, and Richard Thomas.

Local Athletes Place Sixth In Pittsburgh Meet

Ellwood High Athletes Return
From Tech Meet With 9 1/2
Points, Giving Them
Sixth Place

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Coach Dick Bartholomew and his blue and white track team traveled to Pittsburgh Saturday to take part in the Tech track meet, returning home with sixth place by scoring 9 1/2 points. First place went to Scott high of Toledo with a total of 35 points. Nine hundred school athletes from schools in three states took part in the huge event.

Ellwood again failed to take any place in the field events but did well on the track. In the 440 yard dash McMurdo took fourth place and in the half mile run he came in second. Dunn won first in the trials for 120 high hurdles, but took fourth in the finals.

The locals copped the class B mile relay while Scott high school took the top berth in Class A event. Knight represented Ellwood in the pole vault event, and won fourth place.

In spite of the heavy competition, the blue and white showed up well and collected more points than any other school in this vicinity. Beaver Falls was the best Valley representative, with a total score of 51-2 points.

Bartholomew will continue his daily drill in an effort to put the blue and white athletes in the best shape possible for the coming Pitt meet.

U. P. Congregation Weekly Program

Air Passenger Service Will Be Furnished Here

Ball Lines Merge With Pennsylvania Airlines Inc., Establishing Stop Here

NEW LINE TO CARRY MAIL TO CLEVELAND

Clifford Ball, President of Clifford Ball Inc., operator of the Cleveland Pittsburgh Airmail and Express Line and the Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Washington Passenger Line announced today at his office in the Terminal Building, Bettis Airport, McKeesport, Pa., that a combination has been effected whereby the passenger service operated by his firm known as the "Path of the Eagle" will be merged with the Pennsylvania Airlines Inc.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Airlines Inc., on Thursday, May 1, Clifford Ball was elected President and Arthur Ball, secretary and treasurer. W. C. Smith, former president of the Pennsylvania Airlines Inc., will continue to serve as a director and R. Park Marshall of the same firm as vice president and director.

As a result of this merger new and better service is assured air travelers east and west. Within a few days a new schedule and lower rates will be announced and a Tri-Motor Ford will be flown over the route inaugurating this new service. Pilot R. L. Baker, a veteran in the employ of the Clifford Ball Air Lines will be at the controls.

Stops on the line are Akron, O., Youngstown, O., New Castle, Pa., and possibly in the near future Beaver Falls, Pa.

Mr. Ball further states that it is possible that Pennsylvania Airlines, Inc., under his direction will be expanded into an organization in size to encompass all the activities that he has been conducting in Aviation. This includes the Airmail Line as well

Gangster Victim Lives To Tell Of Terrible Torture

Policemen Rescue Man Marked For "Death" By Gangsters; Is Severely Injured

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, May 5.—Three alleged gangsters were under arrest here today, charged with abducting and torturing Earl Holmes, 33, the first victim of a gangland ride who has lived to tell of it.

Beaten, choked, half hanged and with a finger pressing on the trigger of a gun held to his head, Holmes was rescued yesterday by three La Grange policemen as he was about to be executed in a park on the outskirts of the city by the three gunmen.

Holmes, scarcely able to talk from his suffering, told police he owed his torture to efforts to reform a girl said to have been affiliated with the gang of criminals. Holmes wrote the girl a letter threatening to give evidence to the police against the gangsters unless she quit them, and the letter was intercepted, police learned.

Kidnaped, the victim was taken to an apartment where the trio was going to hang him. The owner of the apartment remonstrated, however, and the gunmen took their victim to La Grange Park where he was tied to a tree and was kicked, beaten and half choked.

The gangsters were seized just as a pistol was being pressed against Holmes' head. The men gave their names as John Hennessey, Samuel Bladino and Frank Fabarula. All have police records.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A letter from a St. Louis woman who wants to know what I mean by saying that women are not entitled to have their husbands bring them their breakfasts in bed. She thinks that when a man gets married he should expect to wait upon his wife and she notices that men are willing enough to promise ANYTHING before marriage.

The lady doesn't think much of husbands. She adds that if I had one myself, perhaps I wouldn't be so willing to be their champion. "They deserve to be made to toe the mark," sez she, "or lose the wife. And every wife should have at least half of her husband's income to do with what she pleases."

She sounds like a woman who would get married in a Lions cage. Figuratively her husband did just that.

From San Francisco this inquiry: "Why didn't you say something when you saw that nurse slap that child in a restaurant? What kind of a woman are you that you didn't interfere?"

Lady, did you ever try to interfere in a family quarrel? Try it sometime and get your answer first hand. Suppose it was her child and she told me the child deserved a spanking? I couldn't assault the nurse, though I felt like it. Why don't mothers follow up these nurses and find out what kind they are?

Speaking of stepping into family quarrels, I was sitting on the front porch one Summer night in Chicago when I heard loud voices across the street. In the shadow of a big building a man was striking a woman and someone from the second porch of the building was calling to a man in the street: "Stop that man, DON'T let him strike that woman!"

The man listened as he watched the scrap and when they shouted to him again he said "Well what can I do, it's HIS wife!"

An invalid writes me that she wishes I'd ask people who bring books to hospitals to the suffering to find out what they are buying or bring something they have read and know is good. She's so fed up on books that people have "pestered" her with that she "could scream."

They come back and ask if she's read them and she has to be prepared, but she will die before she will read another book that doesn't interest her. "You don't let people pick your body food for you, unless it's a diet," she explains, "but brain food—that's different. They'd feed you anything."

She's right. It's not stupid, it's criminal to take dull books or books about sick struggling, depressing people to the sick-a-bed. Don't do it. If I am wrong, write me King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

Two Students Hurt Fleeing Flames In Fraternity House

Two Pitt Students Injured Trying To Make Way From Building

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Robert Kleid, 19, and Blair Reid, 22, both students at the University of Pittsburgh, were injured early today when they leaped from the third floor to a porch roof of the Beta Tau Beta fraternity house to escape a blaze which apparently was threatening the house.

Kleid suffered a lacerated leg and Reid a slight cut on the right hand. They were treated at Homeopathic hospital.

Ten other students dropped safely to the porch roof.

Fire had started in a paper chute of the house and burning waste paper filled the three-story brick structure with smoke.

Damage did not exceed $25.

Link Grove City Boy In Murder

N. C. Fisher Alleged To Have Started Fight In Which Freedom Youth Died

RALEIGH, N. C., May 5.—Solicitor L. S. Brasfield today stated that he would seek the indictment of N. C. Fisher of Grove City, Pa., on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon as a result of a brawl last March in which James S. Miller of Freedom, Pa., was killed. Fisher and Miller were students at North Carolina State college, Miller there as a student, Beaman Smith, who is charged with the murder is alleged to have killed Miller during a drunken brawl. He has not been apprehended. The solicitor stated that Fisher started the fight which resulted fatally for Miller.

BACK SEAT
IS ON A PAR WITH THE FRONT SEAT

Long famous as "America's easiest riding motor car" the new Franklin introduces another remarkable comfort achievement. Now the rear seat compartment is as comfortable to ride in as the front. Here is an astonishing feature which is one more bit of evidence showing the progressiveness of Franklin engineers.

In addition to outstanding comfort, Franklin offers superiority in its amazing performance. Powered with an airplane-type engine—which has startled the world by FLYING AN AIRPLANE

—this brilliant car has captured every major American road record.

As though riding in an airplane the road seems to level out before you, the distance becomes shorter as you smoothly glide along in the new Franklin. A quick advance to 80 miles an hour is no effort for this air-cooled engine—and it hardly seems like 50, so smoothly, quietly and comfortably you FLOAT along.

We invite you to drive a Franklin—to experience its AIRPLANE FEEL.

The Story Of American Industry
Part Two

DURING THE FIRST HALF OF THE 19TH CENTURY THE OHIO RIVER VALLEY WAS THE GREAT CORN PRODUCING REGION IN THE UNITED STATES, AND FAMOUS FOR THE RAISING OF HOGS. SITUATED IN THE HEART OF THAT RICH SECTION, AND EASILY ACCESSIBLE BY WATER, THE CITY OF CINCINNATI GREW TO BE THE NATION'S LARGEST MEAT PACKING CENTER.

FLATBOATS AND RIVER STEAMERS DISCHARGED A CONSTANT STREAM OF HOGS AT THE CINCINNATI SLAUGHTERHOUSES, WHENCE THE CARCASSES WENT TO THE PACKING ESTABLISHMENTS. HERE THE PORK WAS SMOKED OR SALTED, AND SHIPPED TO THE MARKETS IN THE EAST AND SOUTH.

WHEN THE RAILROADS SPREAD WESTWARD CHICAGO BECAME THE GREAT HALFWAY STATION BETWEEN THE EAST AND THE WEST. THE GROWTH OF WESTERN RANCHING MADE CHICAGO THE LARGEST CATTLE MARKET, AND BY 1862 THAT CITY HAD TAKEN THE PLACE OF CINCINNATI AS THE LEADING CENTER OF THE MEAT PACKING INDUSTRY.

DURING THE CIVIL WAR CHICAGO'S MEAT PACKING BUSINESS INCREASED ENORMOUSLY DUE TO THE DEMAND FOR MEAT TO FEED THE UNION ARMIES. IN 1865 THE GREAT UNION STOCK YARDS WERE BUILT, COVERING 345 ACRES AND WITH PENS FOR 118,200 ANIMALS.

Bradley-Tobias To Swap Blows Tonight

Should Prefight 'Dope' Run True To Form Fans Should See Stellar Flyweight Battle; Three Other Six Round Battles Arranged Between Favorite Sluggers; Show To Start At 8:15 P. M., (E. S. T.)

The fans are smacking their lips in anticipation of a sumptuous pugilistic feast tonight when the Mainly Art of Self Defense as applied prior to a fight is demonstrated by a pair of prominent flyweights, Phil Tobias and Ruby Bradley. They are scheduled for the grand finale of 10 rounds at Jolly bowl.

The aforementioned chap has beaten Ernie Peters twice here and Bradley turned the trick in the Madison Square garden flyweight eliminations. They're not a pair of ham-and-eggers, but a couple of skilful, heavy hitting flyweights and when this is said practically all is said.

There may be some of the elite who would favor Phil to win but those who are conversant with Bradley's record have told them to hold their words until the fight begins. They point to Bradley's victories over Willie Cuban, Willie Davies, Black Bill, Frisco Grande, Pinky Silverberg, Lew Perelli et al.

And among the et al. is none other than the good Bostonian, Johnny Vacca who gave one Fidel La Barba such a scolding contest when Fidel was a boy small in weight but long on experience and according to Lew Brown, his manager, Ruby or Dark Cloud, as he is commonly known will put up a rattling good fight.

Managers Are Partisan
Jess McMahon, former matchmaker of Madison Square garden is one of Ruby's staunch supporters. He calls him one of the greatest showmen of the ring. He finished up in one of the three finals of the garden flyweight tourney bouts, the last two being Midget Wolgast, Black Bill and Bradley.

"I do not say Bradley is great because I manage him," said Brown in a letter to friends here. "I say he is great because he is. I have watched fighters for 22 years and I'll bank on Dark Cloud."

Bob Levy, former manager of the senegalese, attling Siki who beat Mike McTigue on a St. Patrick's night in Dublin, has Tobias in tow.

Today they will undergo inspection by a deputy commissioner of Harvey Boyle and weight in at 114 pounds or less.

The semi-final of six rounds carded between Jimmy Thomas and Joe Boler, at 120 pounds, carries more than usual appeal. They slugged each other like infuriated wildcats last week and the question of superiority may be settled tonight. During the week Jimmy has trained against southpaw partners.

Lands Battle Ward

Jackie Ward the blonde of Cleveland who fought Bobby Dempsey and Joe Boler in three good battles will test out Frankie Lands, New Castle, a fairly good 120 pounder. Should Frankie be able to stop the Cleveland lad or even gain an edge he won't have to look twice for money with which to buy a summer suit.

Swings from here, there and everywhere will be distributed in the initial bout when Billy Brenzel of the South Side sticks up against Tony Brush, Oakland. They're carded for six rounds at 135 pounds and according to statements of their managers something besides punches will drop when they tangle.

Tonight's show will commence at 8:15 p. m. eastern standard time. The timekeeper will be Peter Capitola but the identities of the referee and judges will be withheld by the deputy commissioner of boxing until a few minutes before the bell rings to start hostilities.

Friedman Wins At Ohio State

Leonard "Len" Friedman, former New Castle high boy, now a member of the Geneva College track team, won five points for his school at Ohio State Relays Saturday when he leaved the javelin a distance of 193 feet 9 inches to take first place in the big Ohio and Mid-West track and field carnival.

His throw Saturday was better than the one made at the Penn Relays which also won for him the coveted first place honors. Friedman received a beautiful plaque for winning the javelin throw.

The Geneva Relay team and Ward, a broad-jumper also competed at Columbus Saturday.

The only thing that is working in pre-season form at our local ball yard is the turnstile. Which makes the season a success for any magnate.

Westminster Swamps Dukes On Saturday

Titans Win First In Every Event Of Day In Field Meet

Delehanty Injured And Probably Out For Remainder Of Season

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—By winning 14 first places and tying for first in the fifteenth event, Westminster College opened the varsity track schedule on the home field Saturday afternoon, swamping Duquesne University with an overwhelming 117-1-3 to 17-2-3 score.

Westminster made clean sweeps in six of the 15 events, taking all three places in the 100 yard dash, 880 yard run, 120 yard low hurdles, shot put, discus, and hammer. The Dukes scored only nine places out of a total of 45 in the meet.

Harry Brownlee, Lock Haven, star football and basketball player, carried off the honors in the meet by winning four firsts to score 20 points. Brownlee won the high hurdles, low hurdles, hammer, and discus. Louis Peresenyi, Turle Creek, with 12 points and Captain Kenneth Delehanty, Livemore, with 12 points were second in scoring for the blue and white.

A number of freshmen stars showed up well in their first college track meet. Maximo Silander, Pittsburgh, broke the college javelin record with a heave of 159 feet 6 inches. The old record, held by John Hetra, class of 1926, was 158 feet 2 inches. Robert Deacle, Sharpville, who won first in the shot put and third in the discus, Lorenz Stocker, Pittsburgh won the two mile event. Paul Banks, of Youngstown, O., placed second in the high hurdles and third in the pole vault. Bill Williams, Sharon, placed a close second in the half mile.

Captain Kenneth Delehanty, in a jump off for first place in the pole vault with Baughman of the Dukes, fell and turned his ankle. At first it was thought that the ankle was broken, but X-ray pictures proved that no bones were broken. Delehanty's ankle was placed in a cast, and it is doubtful that he will represent Westminster again this spring.

C. A. C's. To Play First Game Today

The C. A. C's. will play their first game of the season at 5:30 o'clock this evening meeting the Croton Progressives at the Hickory Heights field. The Colored boys are all set for the season with a fast club and expect to win a flock of games.

Any team wishing a game with the C. A. C's. can arrange them by calling 4556-R and asking for Napoleon Williams.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight, has arrived in the United States and will commence training for his 15-round championship bout with Jack Sharkey, American heavyweight.

Death has claimed "the Kentucky Rosebud", famous negro light weight of a decade ago. He was 76 years old in the Philadelphia hospital where he heard the last count, he was known as Walter Edgerton.

Yale defeated Columbia and Penn by a length and five lengths, respectively on the Poughkeepsie.

Spain defeated Belgium, Australia won from Switzerland and Poland played a tie with Roumania in Davis cup tennis matches. The games were played at Antwerp, Zurich and Warsaw.

With good weather promised for this evening it will be a lucky break for the fans who like to see boxing when Phil Tobias meets Ruby Bradley here. It will be about the third dry Monday in approximately 10 weeks.

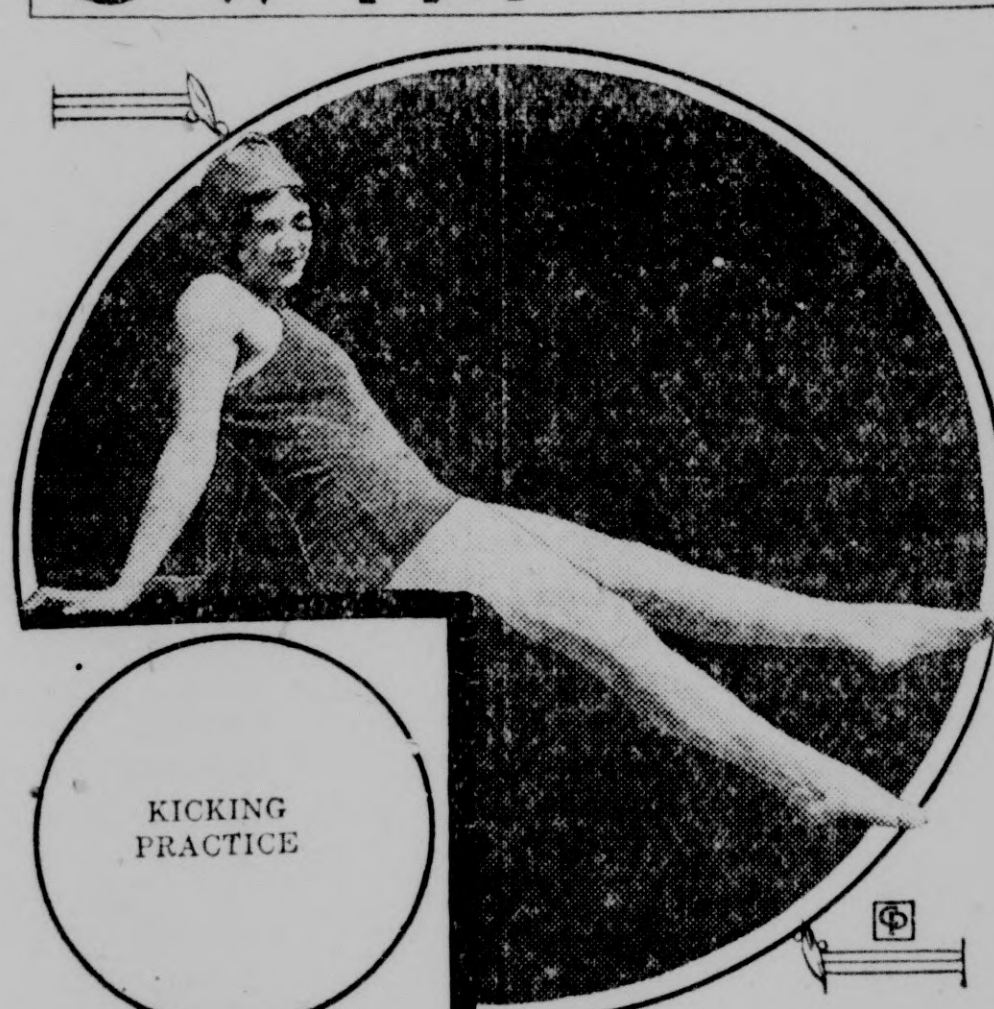

Fig Bill Tilden captured the Italian singles championship by beating Barob H. L. de Morpurgo in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2 at Milan.

Chicago Women Leading Bowlers

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Women bowlers from Chicago were in the limelight of the 13th Women's International bowling congress today after a double team of the Alberti Jewellers, rolled a count of 1173 taking first place in the doubles.

First place in the singles today had a new contender, Anita Rump, Port Wayne, Ind., 1928, international champion, who hung up a high score of 613 for the first position.

SWIM BY FLOYD ZIMMERMAN

LESSON THREE
Learning the leg movement of the American crawl is rather simple, yet of great importance. Sit as close to the edge of the pool as possible, or if you are at the beach, on a rock so that your legs are free. Move your legs up and down as if walking without bending the knees, getting all the drive from the hips. A point to stress is be certain that your toes are pointed. The length of the stroke should be from eight to 10 inches. Too much emphasis cannot be given to this training, since the greater part of your speed is derived from the kick.
Many expert swimmers will devote a great deal of time to this practice, even after perfecting their kick so as to increase their driving power. Next: Dead Man's Float.

Municipal Course Crowded Saturday

Manager Walter Hart Reports About 150 Played Muny Golf Course Saturday

The popular by-word in New Castle lately seems to be, "Will See You at the Municipal Golf Course," and upwards of a 150 players were out in full force Saturday. The weather was ideal with a bright warm sun and very little breeze.

Since the course opened last Thursday the golfers have taken advantage of the beautiful scenic spot at the Muny course for many pleasureable rounds.

The 13 holes were in play Saturday. It is hoped that ere the summer months fleet away that the full 18 holes can be opened for play. The course when completed will rank with the finest in this section of the country and is a real credit to New Castle. Golf is fast becoming one of the most popular sports, and all because of the fact that the working men have taken up the game and the game is no longer a game for old retired men and wealthy individuals.

Manager Hart reports that the golfers have been very orderly on the Muny course and with a little cooperation in regard to the playing turf the course can be made better each year. The greens are in very good condition.

Sport Ritticisms BY BILL RITT

The Washington Club has already received 200 requests for world series tickets, but won't take any further action until holding conferences with the Athletics, Browns, White Sox, Indians and Tigers.

The prize pessimist is the western minor leaguer who hit a home run in his first game and then got sore because there was no one on base.

Those Katzenjammer Kids must be playing with the Boston Red Sox. That outfit has stuck pins into the Yankees and cut the floor from under the Athletics.

Jack Sharkey says he is willing to fight Phil Scott again in England. Or any other place where a nice, flat surface can be found to prevent bruises on Phil's shoulder blades.

Uninteresting but true: Quinton Romero-Rojas is said to be still champion of Chile. And after viewing Quinton in some of his battles it must be said he is a very, very still champion.

Scott High Wins Tech Track Meet

Ellwood City High With 9 1/2 Points Finishes Sixth In Big Meet

Ellwood City Also Wins Class B Relay; New Castle Fails To Impress

Scott High of Toledo, Ohio, scored in 10 out of 13 events and as a result won Carnegie Tech's annual interscholastic track and field meet held on Saturday at Pittsburgh. Scott scored 35 points. Ellwood City with 9 1-2 points finished sixth in the big meet. The Ellwoodians also won the Class B relay races. New Castle high didn't do so well in the meet. The locals scored but three points. Salem high with 30 points was second.

Greensburg for New Castle was the only local trackman to score. He finished third in the 100 yard dash to give the local team three points. Several records were broken. Records in the dash, high jump and relay races were broken.

Canzoneri-Carlton To Battle Tonight

NEW YORK, May 5.—Tony Canzoneri, contender for the world's light weight title, will oppose Harry Carlton, New Jersey slugger, in the ten round feature at the St. Nicholas club tonight.

New Castle-Chaney To End Practice Thursday

Coaches Report Gridders Will Be In "Peak" For Unusual Night Game

This afternoon New Castle high and Chaney of Youngstown, the principals that will meet in a spring night football game at Taggart Field on Friday night will enter the final days of practice before the unusual event. New Castle is training at Taggart Field while Chaney is rehearsing in Youngstown.

Coach Bridenbaugh will probably send his pigskin catchers through scrimmages this afternoon. Tuesday afternoon the workout will be light. Then on Friday night, the night of the battle, the locals will windup the Spring season by opposing the strong Chaney eleven.

Heavy Line
The local eleven will bank on the line as the backfield will be light. The backfield will average somewhere around 140-145 pounds. The line will average around 170-175 pounds.

New Castle will enter the game with only two first stringers from last season, "Regis" McAuley the quarterback and George Deep guard. Several of the other gridders have seen action with the second and third team. "Bob" Jamison who will more than likely be given the center assignment saw action on the second team last season. Askounes, another lineman, also played on the second team as did Jimmy Mike. Bender in the backfield played on the second team along with James Sotus.

Outside of these lads the remainder of the team will be composed of members. Fred Fabian who has been making a creditable showing since Spring training started is playing his first year high school football. He started school last year and was also out for football. An injury to one of his legs in practice forced him to discontinue football until his leg became well. Now he is well and by the way he has been tearing through the line it looks as if he will be a great help to the locals—providing he keeps up the good work.

Chaney Has Good Team
Chaney High school will bring to New Castle the same team that won the championship of Youngstown last season. Only one member will be missing. Chaney demonstrated its power by holding the strong Scott High of Toledo to a 6-6 tie last season, a feat that the remainder of Scott's opponents failed to do. Chaney is entering the game favored to win. New Castle will be in there and the writer ventures to say that the locals will give the visitors as hard a battle as any other school around here.

Faculty Manager Gardner stated today that the game will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock Eastern standard time. Advance demand for tickets indicate that Taggart Field on Friday night will be jammed with one of the biggest crowds ever to attend a game here.

Schmeling Confident He Will Trim Sharkey

German Heavyweight Says Fact That Sharkey Is Married Man Hurts His Chances

Fight Is Due To Take Place At New York City On June 12—Expect Big Crowd

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 5.—He travels fastest who travels alone. One of the reasons why Max Schmeling believes that he is destined to take the heavyweight championship back with him to the fatherland is that Jack Sharkey is a married man.

At least this was the impression I gathered today in an interview with the German challenger, 24 hours after his arrival here to begin serious preparations for his title fight with Sharkey on June 12. Of course, the man speaks far from perfect English and my ear for gutters was never acute. Nevertheless, his inference seemed plain enough. He obviously meant that it was just too bad for Sharkey that he was a married man.

Should Be Single. Whereupon, noting my mystification, he tried to elaborate thus: "He will have—what you say—yes, the responsibilities of the home. No married man should be a fighter. A fighter should concentrate wholly upon himself. No married man can do this."

Unconsciously, he was playing Kipling on the nose, so to speak, or straight, as they say at the Paddock club. He probably didn't realize that this particular couplet, which deals with unhampered speed in two given directions—"down to Gehenna or up to the throne."

Wants To Win. Anyway, it was obvious that Schmeling's thoughts run in one groove only, namely, forward. I was more interested in the man than in his reasons for thinking that he would win a prize fight, as was his bounden duty to think. However, these reasons may be set down briefly as follows:

That, counting his 15-round fight with Paulino, he has had upward of 132 rounds of boxing to Sharkey's six during the last 12 months; that he is five years younger and, therefore, does not need the intensive preparation that Sharkey needs; that he has studied Sharkey's style from actual observation in a gymnasium and in the Dempsey fight movie and thinks he has the answer, although not committed to any particular plan of battle; that he is stronger and tougher than ever he was before; and that, finally, Sharkey is a married man.

"I will have no worries in the training camp," Schmeling explained. "No outside interests, no thoughts except of the fight. Even the Bulow matter will not bother me this time, as it did in some of my previous fights. I am satisfied that I have done the right thing all the way through."

Didn't Do Wrong. "They told me I was making a mistake in going back to Germany when the boxing commission suspended me. I told them that when I came back nobody would be ahead of me. And," he added on a triumphant note, "nobody is."

He went on to say that he wouldn't fight Phil Scott because he knew that he would be asking for all the trouble that Sharkey got later in Miami. He didn't take a warm up fight in Germany, he declared, because he saw no value in fighting chumps.

"I get more out of my exhibitions," said he. "There were 102 rounds of these in America and 30 rounds in Germany. I doubt whether all of Sharkey's fighting and preparation can match that."

This and much more he said in a kindred strain but it was the things he left unsaid that really made the most telling impression. A smooth worker, this German. He was ultra-confident but careful to repress it and so he talked the conventional talk of a heavyweight prize fighter about to go into active training. This, to newspapermen.

The other side to his friends. "When I am champion—?" This phrase, they said, has been running through his conversation like the thread of an obituary, since his arrival yesterday morning. It isn't a mere wish. It seems to be an assumption.

All Eyes, Of Course, On Ruth

--BABE RUTH--
AT 36, HIS BATTING EYE IS AS KEEN AS EVER, BUT CAN HIS LEGS HOLD UP?

Superman George Herman Ruth is now on the first lap of his 37th year and in the 18th season of as whole-souled play as one can put into baseball. His comparatively slender legs are still propelling the Babe's 229 pounds around the diamond—cracking every now and then with common "charley horses" or other ailments that reveal time's ravages.

The Babe's eyes—as remarkable or as ever peered at a pitcher—are still those of a champion sharpshooter; his arms and shoulders respond instinctively to what he sees; and only the legs—potent indeed in properly co-ordinated hitting—are uncertain. If the Ruthian props hold up, Babe will retain his home run laurels, but if they go back on him, 1930 will mark definitely the beginning of the end of the playing career of the greatest steady gate attraction sport has known thus far.

Incidentally, most critics agree that 36 and 37 are the critical ages for baseball stars. In all strenuous sports the best of them begin to slip usually at 30. And in all lines, the legs go first—they lose much of their spring

Baby Injured When Hurlled From Go-Cart

(International News Service)
GLASSPORT, Pa., May 5.—Patricia Miller, 10-week-old infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, was reported in a serious condition here today as the result of being hurled from her baby carriage by an automobile yesterday.

Pansil Shemereko, 29, Tarentum, alleged driver of the car, was placed under arrest and released under $1,000 bond.

The accident occurred when Shemereko attempted to pass a street car, police said. Mrs. Miller was pushing the carriage in which Patricia and another baby sister were riding.

Both babies were thrown to the street. Patricia suffered a fractured skull, and her condition was said to be critical today.

BABE RUTH HITS HIS THIRD HOMER

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—In baseball's sunset, a 37 year old player stands out today—a hefty, solid, oak-like man, silhouetted on the horizon of the game where youth counts most and a man past 35 is as conspicuous as an old maid at a wedding.

Charles D. Jamieson has been playing big league ball for more than 14 years and has figured in more than 1500 games with a batting average of better than .300, but perhaps his knocking of the apple has never been such an important factor in a club's rise as this Spring. In fact his stick work appears to be the main reason why Cleveland tops the American league this morning.

Homer Wins Game. Through April and into May he has been hitting when others did not and yesterday was not the exception. Jamieson merely homered in the ninth and scored two ahead of him, giving the Indians a chance to win out in the tenth over Boston, 8 to 7.

Another big hit and run man of the day was Babe Ruth, who counted off three circuit-busters of the season and the Yankees defeated the White Sox 7 to 4. Pipgras shared in the glory, his hurling halting the pale ones when Wells failed.

The frantic folk soared onward and landed in the first division of the National League by dowing the Cards twice, 2 to 0 and 11 to 10, the second clash going 13 innings. Effective pitching by Phelps won the opener. In the night Cap Frederick's double opened the scoring in the thirteenth and hits by Herman, Wright and Biscanette clinched the game for Brooklyn.

George "Mule" Haas uncorked a seventh inning triple that gave Philadelphia the biggest part of a 7 to 1 victory over Detroit. It was the Athletics fourth defeat of the Tigers.

Though outlit 10 to 7, the Browns bunched theirs in the second, scoring 7 runs and winning from Washington 8 to 6.

Coffman went the route for the Browns, while the Solons used four pitchers.

Forty thousand Chicagoans saw a wild pitch by Koussal permit Danny Taylor to score as the Cubs won 8 to 7 over the Phillies.

Jersey Joe Stripp played the part of a gay Caballero and every time a Red got on base, Joe batted him in. Stripp obliged with a triple, a double and two singles and Cincinnati defeated the Giants 8 to 4.

Pittsburgh and Boston were not scheduled.

Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

... the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency ... join it! Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

Thousands of men who would gladly trounce a spitter caught in the act continue, nevertheless, to accept cigars rolled by dirty fingers and tipped with spit! And remember more than half of all cigars made in this country are made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof... immaculate... foil-wrapped... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said: "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

FROM TEE TO GREEN

By BOY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer-Artist

In the illustration you will find all the fundamentals necessary for an accurate and long drive, laid out, mathematically. This will serve to lessen any confusion, when addressing the ball, as to the dimensions of the body parts in relation to the ball.

These principles adhere closely to such golfers as Joe Turnesa, Walter Hagen, Jesse Sweetser and those professionals and amateurs who take a broad stance for a powerful tee shot.

These dimensions executed in a rhythmic fashion will solve many of your troubles from the tee.

You will, in all probability, find some startling figures here, especially where the right and left elbow are considered. These figures should be the result of the beginner that he must reach out for the ball in order to get distance.

This solves the reaching factor so hazardous to the backswing.

Next the distance between the heels is an important point. Lay a ruler down on the floor and become acquainted with the distance. Jones will stand with his heels close together, at no time does he exceed 12 inches. Try them both and pick the one that feels more comfortable.

Next, playing the ball eight inches from the heel, put it close to the center of the stance. This gets the club-

Two Young Boys Drowning Victims

Two Verona School Boys Fall Into Reservoir While Fishing Is Belief

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Deputy coroners today were investigating the deaths of two Verona school boys who were drowned Saturday night in the Verona hill reservoir when they were believed to have tried to fish in the pool.

The boys were Merril Lobaugh, 12, and Clayton Dore, 14. Although there was no witness to the accident, it was thought the boys lost their balance while climbing a wire fence protecting the reservoir and rolled down the steep concrete embankment.

Their cries aroused Stanley Hallett, 16, sleeping in a tent nearby, but he was unable to save them. Hallett was forced to call for aid when he found he could not climb the embankment, and was pulled out by H. L. Millora, 22.

The bodies were located after a half-hour's search.

Sharon Man Dies Of Heart Failure

(International News Service)
SHARON, Pa., May 5.—A heart attack was blamed today for the sudden death here yesterday of Joseph Rebley, 73, while enroute to church. He was in a street car at the time of the attack. Rebley operated a small store here.

Young Man Dies From His Burns

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., May 5.—Reed L. Giles, 23, a telephone lineman, was dead at his home here today. He died of burns suffered Saturday when he touched a live wire.

SAILOR IS HOME ON SHORT FURLOUGH

Chester Alford, son of Mrs. Anna B. Alford of County Line street, who is a sailor aboard the U. S. S. Saratoga, now stationed at Hampton Roads, Va., is spending a few days furlough with his mother before the ship leaves again for the western coast.

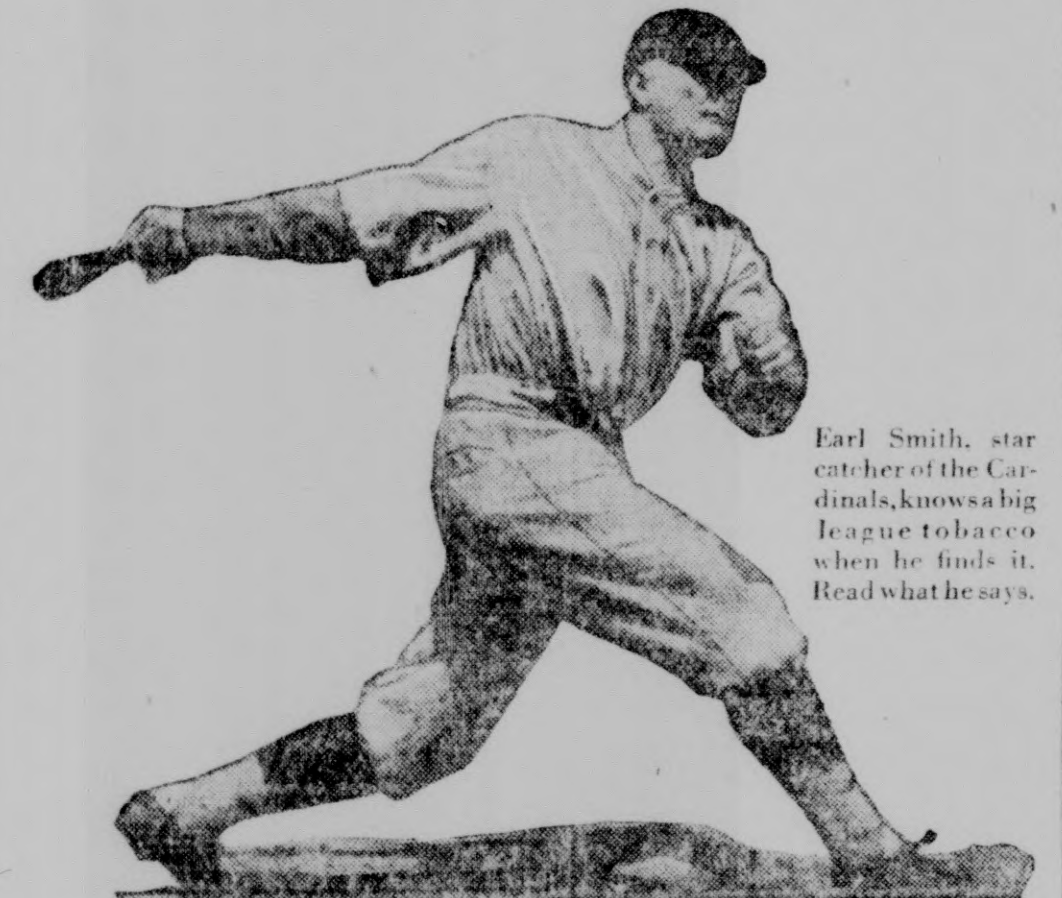

Chester is enlisted in the aviation squadron.

Red Cross Given Praise By Hoover

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The American Red Cross was described today by President Hoover as "a universal agency for giving practical expression to international good-will and to the human sympathy which is the common heritage of all."

"It is a grave responsibility that the Red Cross holds for our country and there is implied in it a preparedness for ready and instant action," the president told the delegates at the in-lieu session of their four-day convention here.

"And in discharge of this great responsibility it represents more than just 'cold-blooded efficiency,'" Mr. Hoover continued. "The American Red Cross represents the spiritual quality, the charity and sympathy of a nation to the helpless."

Complete Confidence

"The nation has grown to complete confidence in the efficiency, ability, and single mindedness of the Red Cross. We have come to entrust it with a great responsibility for the Red Cross is today the expression of the national will, the national sympathy, for all those overtaken by catastrophe of storm, of flood, of famine. Its call to charity to meet these emergencies is mandatory upon the heart of the nation."

He explained that in the last fifteen years there has been quite a change in the purpose of, and an expansion in the benevolent activities of the great charity organization.

"Originally designed for succor in war, it has now become also the national agency for relief of disaster in peacetime, both at home and abroad," he said. "In the past decade it has distinguished itself a score of times by effective organization of the saving of life and suffering. Its ever increasing strength represents the growing of the spiritual sense of responsibility of the nation toward those who meet with disaster."

Coast Guardsmen Drowned In Lake

Three Meet Death By Drowning; Two Bodies Have Been Recovered

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 5.—Eighteen coast-guard boats today cruised the western end of Lake Erie from Trenton to Toledo in quest of wreckage from a rum chasing speedboat whose crew of three guardsmen were drowned in the lake Thursday. Bodies of two of the three have been recovered. Search continues for the third.

Floating evidence, if found, will determine, it is believed, whether the officers met their death when a storm swamped their boat and swept them into the water; or if their craft sank according to another surmise, after being rammed by a rum ship.

The three in the speedboat were: Captain Gardner D. Young, 30, in charge of coastguard cutter 173; William Pratt, 38, master mechanic; Jack Hay, 28, chief master machinist.

Young and his two companions were all from the coastguard station at Port Clinton, O. The bodies of the captain and Hay were recovered five miles off Monroe harbor yesterday afternoon.

Statement Of Clearing House

NEW YORK, May 5.—Clearing house statement: Exchanges $562,000,000. Balance $111,000,000. Federal Reserve Bank's balance $108,000,000.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Avalanche Of Orders Swamp Stock Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—A heavy load of speculative selling, awaited the opening of the market today. Except for the high-priced specialties, which declined sharply in the first period, the losses in the early trading were comparatively small, while many of the favorites rallied sharply. Vanadium Steel made a net gain of 7½ points at 109½; General Electric moved up 2½ points to 77½, and U. S. Steel at the end of the first hour was up 1½.

An avalanche of buying and selling in the first half-hour accounted for the heaviest turnover of the year in that period, transactions totaled 1,423,000 shares, or at the rate of 14,000,000 shares for a full session. Auburn Motor led the downward move of the high-priced specialties and dropped off 12 points to 188. Case Threshing lost 10 points at 290. The markets were irregular, with Hudson down nearly 3 points at 41½.

Wall Street was generally of the opinion that the reaction had run its course, though a considerable amount of "cleaning up" is always necessary after such a violent dip in prices as recorded last week.

Stock prices in the second hour were stabilized around the levels of the first rally. United States Steel at 172½ showed a gain of 2½ from Saturday's close. International Nickel was up about a point at 32½; General Electric up 2½ at 77½; United Corp. up a point at 41½; Westinghouse up 3 at 163½; American and Foreign Power unchanged at 76½; Consolidated Gas up 1½ at 121½; Warner Brothers up 1½ at 65; Pan American B down 2½ at 56 and Aitchison up about 2 points at 220.

Call money was in good supply at 3½ per cent. Commodity markets were fairly steady, with narrow price changes in cotton, grain and foodstuffs. Business and industrial reports were unchanged.

State Insurance Federation Meets In Annual Session

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—General sessions, round-table discussions and election of officers were the chief order of the day before approximately 1,000 delegates to the insurance federation of Pennsylvania convention which opened a three day meeting here today.

Sixteen directors were to be elected at the afternoon session today. The newly elected directors, in turn, will name the state officers.

William H. Kingsley, of Philadelphia, gave the president's address when the session opened this morning. Following a welcoming address by James Rae, president of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce.

Two general sessions and eight round table discussions were scheduled for tomorrow, with Congressman Carroll L. Beedy, of Maine, and Matthew H. Taggart, state insurance commissioner, listed as the principal speakers.

Forfeiture Upheld By Supreme Court

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Supreme Court today upheld the forfeiture by prohibition agents of barrels, bottles, corks and other property of the Fetterl Betting company of Pittsburgh, used for making liquor.

Asserting that the liquor consisted only of dregs, the Fetterl company appealed to the high court to set aside the forfeiture on the ground that empty barrels and similar articles cannot be confiscated under the prohibition law.

Deny Conspiracy In Liquor Case

Grove City Men To Produce Witnesses In Charge Of Planting Liquor

MERCER, Pa., May 5.—The defense of Harry Bell and C. W. Brannon as outlined by their attorney Senator Ben Jarrett is a denial of any conspiracy with Challander Hines to frame Chris Page, Grove City restaurant, as alleged by Hines who was the star witness for the commonwealth at a hearing starting late Thursday in which the trio are alleged to have been in mutual agreement to frame Page. Both defendants to the action denied it emphatically stating that if any liquor was found there it was the property of Page or if planted by Hines as he claims they had nothing to do with it. Senator Jarrett states that a half dozen witnesses will be called by the defense.

JAIL GETS MANY

The largest number of prisoners admitted to the jail in one day for months was that of Thursday when 14 were registered for sentences at the jail.

NAME HONOR PUPILS

The first five honor students of the senior class of 40 pupils at the Mercer High school have just been named. There will be others added to the list later it is made known. The class is one of the most remarkable in the history of the school. The graduation exercises will be held on the date of June 10. The town schools close on the date of June 11. The closing date this year is late due to the fact that the schools started late on account of the completion of the school building here. The first five honor pupils were chosen so that a start could be made in arranging for the commencement program. The senior vacation begins on the date of May 28.

RUMOR BUS LINE SOLD

The Welch-Patterson Bus Lines, operating between Franklin-Butler-New Castle are reported to have bought the Mercer-Sandy Lake-Cochran line of Cash Vogan.

The line he owns has been in service for a long term of years.

Charge Lobbying Is Being Done To Seat Judge John Parker

Arizona Senator Hurls Lobby Charge At Hoover Administration

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Hoover administration was charged in the Senate today with offering "federal judgeships and other appointments" to secure votes for confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Senator Ashurst (D) of Arizona made the charge and demanded in a speech that the Senate's lobby committee be instructed to investigate the "lobby" working for Parker's confirmation.

The charge started the Senate.

Ministers Plan Pentecostal Meet

New Secretary Elected At Morning Session In Y. M. C. A. To Fill Vacancy

The New Castle Ministerial association had a busy meeting in the Y. M. C. A. this morning.

The secretary, Rev. Floyd Childs, resigned on account of leaving the city and in his place Rev. D. D. Stephy of the Seventh Ward was elected.

An interesting paper on "Our Mothers" was read by Rev. Sleepy and Mrs. J. B. McClanahan introduced Miss Linnie Long of Beaver Falls, who spoke to the association on "The Present Political Situation in Our State." Bart Richards also appeared before the association and spoke on "Law Enforcement and Observance of the Sunday Law" in our state.

The ministers endorsed the plans of the committee on arrangements for the big union Pentecostal meeting which will be held by the churches of the city and surrounding territory on the evening of June 8 in the Cathedral.

Bishop Rogers of Cleveland has been chosen as speaker at this Pentecostal meeting and the committee are hard at work to make this one of the outstanding events of the church year.

The meeting this morning closed the church year for the association and a special meeting will be held June 9.

Indiana Voters Will Parade To Polls Tuesday

Indiana Primary Watched With Interest By Political Experts Of Nation

WET AND DRY ROW IS INTERESTING

By EUGENE J. CADOU, International News Service Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 5.—Although keen local interest has been aroused in the primary election tomorrow, little state-wide importance is attached to the balloting by the politicians today.

Aside from stirring contests against incumbent Republican congressmen in two districts and a "wet" and "dry" battle in the G. O. P. race for congress in the Indianapolis district, the issues were largely local.

In the eighth congressional district, Congressman Albert H. Vestal, Republican, is opposed by youthful Joe H. Davis, of Muncie, Delaware county prosecutor, who is leading a "new deal" movement against the veteran congressman and is conceded a chance to win.

In the first congressional district, Congressman Harry E. Krowbottom, also a Republican, is challenged by State Senator Bruce E. Cooper, of Stewartsville, and James R. Duncan, of Evansville, for the nomination. The battling has been fast and furious and Rowbottom's defeat is a possibility.

Through a sharp division of strength between "dry" candidates, in the seventh congressional district, including Indianapolis, Ira M. Holmes, G. O. P. aspirant for congress on a modification platform, has a bare chance to garner the title, but there were no indications of a formidable "wet" tidal wave in the state capitol district.

"Hey, yelled the sergeant at rifle practice, 'don't you know better than to fire before the range is clear? You just missed me.' 'I'm awfully sorry, sergeant,' responded the recruit. 'Our Dumb Animals.'"

A large swarm of bees recently settled on a small car. No doubt the owner thought he'd get some bees in his bonnet.

The weakness in a straw ballot is that it doesn't urge the great American conscience to save the neighbors.
